

U.S. To Cut Viet Forces By 40,000

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said tonight 40,500 more U.S. troops will be withdrawn from South Vietnam by the end of November.

Ky added that it was expected that between 150,000 and 200,000 will be pulled out by the end of 1970 and that it would probably be the higher figure.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, talking to reporters today, did not dispute the announcement by South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky earlier that 40,000 more American troops will be pulled out before November.

But he would not specifically verify that number, saying repeatedly that consultations now are on with other troop-contributing nations and the formal White House announcement will be withheld until Tuesday.

President Nguyen Van Thieu apparently gave his approval for the withdrawal in a meeting late in the afternoon with acting U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of American forces in Vietnam.

Abrams and Berger had conferred with Thieu at the presidential palace in an extraordinary meeting at 8 a.m. Sunday. It was at this meeting, less than two hours after Abrams returned from Washington and a conference with President Nixon, that Abrams presumably relayed Nixon's plans to withdraw additional U.S. military personnel.

Authoritative sources in Saigon said Saturday that about 30,000 officers and men of the U.S. Navy will be pulled out over the next nine months as part of Nixon's cutback in military strength.

This would reduce U.S. Navy strength in South Vietnam to about 5,000 officers and men who would stay on as a naval advisory group.

The U.S. Naval Command would be deactivated with the withdrawal, the informants said.

The U.S. Command announced today that as of last Thursday, American troop strength in Vietnam stood at 508,000 men, a drop of 1,600 from the previous week. A spokesman said, however, that this was one of the usual fluctuations caused by rotation of personnel, not a permanent reduction in strength.

Nixon's initial 25,000-man cutback was completed last month. One phase of the withdrawal moved U.S. Army units out of the Mekong Delta. U.S. military spokesmen said as the Americans moved out, North Vietnamese troops in the delta doubled in number, to between 2,000 and 3,000 men.

One Viet Cong regiment of 1,000 to 1,500 men—most of them North Vietnamese—moved into the delta in April, the spokesmen said. Another regiment from the North Vietnamese army reportedly slipped into the area during the summer.

Ohio Blazes Kill 11 Persons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Raging fires at two Ohio residences nearly 200 miles apart killed at least 11 persons Sunday.

Neighbors of the home of Mrs. Joyce Neal of Franklin in southwestern Ohio said they heard an explosion late Sunday night just before flames engulfed the home.

Killed in the blaze were Mrs. Bertha Hillard, 27, a resident of the home; and Mrs. Neal's children, Glenn E., 10; Marsha Ann, 9; David A., 7, and Mike D., 15 months. The fire also killed two of Mrs. Neal's children from a former marriage, Ellis Ballard Jr., 6 and Davis A. Ballard, 5.

Mrs. Neal was reported in very critical condition at a Midletown hospital.

Earlier Sunday a Belmont County woman, her two small children and a neighbor child who was spending the night died when a fire swept a mobile home.

Coroner Thomas Ring of the southeastern Ohio county said Jane Williams, 21, awoke to a noise in the trailer. Her husband, William, went to investigate and found one end of the home engulfed in flames.

Nearly overcome by smoke, Williams groped his way outside, Ring said, but could not get back in through the dense smoke and raging fire.

Ring said Williams' wife, their daughter Debbie, 1½, son William, 7 weeks, and the neighbor, Tracy Adams, 12, died of smoke inhalation and burns.

The Williams home was on Ohio 7 along the Ohio River, three miles from Shadyside. Shadyside fire officials said the cause of the fire had not been determined.

Pentagon Critics To Fight Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon critics hope to shoot down plans for a multi-billion dollar Air Force bomber as the Senate enters what leaders say may be the last week of debate on the $20 billion military procurement bill.

An amendment cutting back funds for the Advanced Manned from $100 million to $20 million has been introduced by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he hopes to bring it up for a vote Tuesday.

Noting the defeat of other amendments seeking major cutbacks in the bill, Mansfield said the odds are against McGovern's proposal. He said critics of Pentagon spending hit a high point with the 50-50 vote on the Safeguard ABM system and "we haven't been able to get within striking distance since."

Auto Makers To Fight Back On Sticker Price Criticism

DETROIT (AP) — Auto makers readied a sharp rebuttal today to a government charge that the price stickers on new cars may deceive buyers.

General Motors, Chrysler, Ford and American Motors—which sell more than 8 million cars a year—are expected to tell the Federal Trade Commission, in hearings opening Tuesday in Washington, that the window stickers carrying manufacturers' suggested retail prices actually improve the bargaining position of new car buyers.

The FTC says that under present practice "manufacturers may be engaged in direct misrepresentation of prices as well as placing in the hands of dealers the means and instrumentality for deceiving consumers as to savings at the retail level."

Ancient Hardtack A Prizewinner

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A 90-year-old Spanish American War veteran won the Veterans' Day competition Sunday at the New Mexico State Fair when he turned up in his 1890 vintage uniform.

Included in the uniform of George Lambert of Albuquerque were a mess kit and a piece of hardtack, still edible 70 years later.

Lambert bit off a piece of the hardtack and said, "Tastes just like it did then. Wasn't any good then and it isn't now."

Newspaper Merger Plans Announced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The parent companies of the Los Angeles Times and the Dallas Times Herald have agreed to a merger involving the exchange of nearly $91 million worth of stock.

Under the agreement, the Times Mirror Co. of Los Angeles will issue 1.8 million shares of convertible preferred stock to Times Herald shareholders in exchange for the Texas company's assets. The agreement requires approval of both companies' stockholders and the Federal Communications Commission.

Expect Haynsworth To Win Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite opposition from civil rights and labor leaders, all signs now indicate President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. for the Supreme Court will be confirmed by the Senate.

Senate Judiciary Committee hearings starting Tuesday could change the picture, but so far no organized effort has developed within the Senate to block approval of the 56-year-old South Carolinian.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who indicated he probably will vote against the nomination, has nonetheless predicted Haynsworth will be confirmed—and others not enthusiastic about the appointment agree.

The Haynsworth nomination also has picked up the far-from-enthusiastic support of Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., who spearheaded last year's successful fight to keep Abe Fortas from becoming chief justice.

"If you think my silence until now has been interpreted as meaning that I am not overjoyed by the appointment," Griffin said Sunday at Mackinac Island, Mich., "you're absolutely right."

"But on the basis of all the knowledge I have today, I predict that Judge Haynsworth's appointment will be confirmed with my support."

Acting Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania also indicated Sunday he might back the nomination, but for the moment would reserve judgment.

He spoke on the NBC TV-radio interview program "Meet the Press."

More than a score of witnesses have asked to be heard at the committee hearings. Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he expects to take two or three days.

Haynsworth has been a judge on the 4th U.S. Appeals Court in Richmond, Va., since 1957, when he was confirmed by the Senate without opposition. He became chief judge of the court in 1964.

The White House, in announcing Aug. 18 the nomination to fill the court vacancy created by the resignation under fire of Fortas, said Nixon feels Haynsworth "has demonstrated judicial temperament, balance, impartiality and fairness."

However, in a letter to all senators, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP and chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, said "the constitutional rights of millions of Americans will be less secure" if Haynsworth is confirmed.

Teams Ready For Descent Into Mine

78 Entombed Last November By Blast, Fire

FARMINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Two five-man teams prepared to descend 543 feet today into a coal mine where 78 men were entombed after an intense fire and series of explosions last November.

But it was expected to be months before any attempt could be made to enter the heavily damaged western section of Consolidation Coal Co. No. 9 mine where the bodies were believed to lie.

"I doubt at this time we would encounter any of the bodies," said Peter Ferretti, a company vice president.

The men were killed by a chain reaction series of 16 methane and coal dust explosions that thundered through the 7½-mile long mine Nov. 20, 1968.

All exits were sealed 10 days later when the continuing explosions doomed rescue efforts.

Three elevator specialists opened a trail for the recovery crews Sunday when they

Arrest Man For Kidnap

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — "He kept his cool and didn't make any funny or sudden moves," said the police chief admiringly of the kidnap victim.

"I cannot explain my son's activities," said the mother of the man arrested in the kidnaping. "I don't know what in the world I would say to Alan Ramo's family."

Ramo, 19, was rescued unharmed by police after being abducted from in front of his home by a masked gunman Saturday and handcuffed to a tree in nearby canyon area for eight hours.

The youth is the son of Simon Ramo, missile expert and one of the founders of TRW, Inc., a billion-dollar aerospace firm.

John Jacob Santen, 23, a merchant seaman from San Lorenzo, Calif., faced arraignment today in the kidnaping.

U.S., Allies To Relax Ban On Trade With Soviet Bloc

LONDON (AP) — The United States and 14 allied countries are lowering their barriers on exports of strategic products to the Soviet bloc. But the bans are staying up for trade with the Asian Communist governments and Albania.

Diplomats reported Sunday that concessions to be announced next month will not be extended to Communist China, to Albania, its only European ally, or to North Vietnam and North Korea.

The embargo on munitions and other war weapons remains.

Informants said the prospect of improved economic and political relations with the East European Communists, the diminishing technological gap between them and the Western powers, and the deep-seated allied suspicion of China's military intentions influenced the decision to ease the controls.

Informants said the previously banned items which the Soviet bloc now will be able to buy include certain types of computers, rare metals and their alloys, chemical and petroleum equipment, a wide range of industrial, electrical and transport goods, and certain categories of electronic and precision instruments.

The international agreement came in months of negotiations by the group in Paris known as the Coordinating Committee, made up of representatives of all North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries except Iceland, plus Japan.

Japan favored concessions to Red China also, but finally agreed with the other members

U.S., Koreas Hold Talks On Airmen

SEOUL (AP) — U.S. and North Korean officers talked privately for nearly two hours at Panmunjom today, presumably over conditions for the release of three Americans held prisoner since their helicopter was shot down Aug. 17 over North Korea.

It was the second private talk reported held.

The first negotiation reportedly took place Sept. 8.

The U.S. State Department had no comment after the first meeting on when or whether the North Koreans might release the prisoners.

The three crewmen are Capt. David H. Crawford of Pooler, Ga.; WO Malcolm V. Loepke of Richmond, Ind., the pilot; and Spec. 4 Herman E. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill.

North Korea has told Military Armistice Commission meetings that Crawford and Hofstatter were seriously injured and Loepke suffered slight injuries.

After the Sept. 8 meeting, State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said, "There is reason" to believe the health of the three crewmen "has improved."

During the last armistice commission meeting Sept. 4, North Korea demanded the United States admit "a criminal military mission" by the helicopter, apologize and insure that there will be no recurrence of such a "hostile act."

Seneca County Jail Escapees Are Captured

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — Two escapees from the Seneca County Jail here were back in their cells today after they were captured Sunday in a farm field two miles east of Norwalk.

Captured a few hours after their escape were Larry D. Hill, 18, of Route 1, Kendallville, Ind., and Bruce E. Carpenter, 26, of Lima, Ohio. Both were in jail awaiting Seneca County Grand Jury action on charges of breaking and entering.

The pair escaped with outside help about 3:30 a.m., Seneca County deputies said. They declined to elaborate.

Hill and Carpenter fled into a cornfield after leaving a stolen car during the chase, the highway patrol said.

Dayton Man Killed In Auto Collision

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Clarence Belt, 79, of Dayton, was killed early today when his car was struck from the rear by a truck on I-75 near West Carrollton.

Storms Hit Southwest United States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Locally heavy thunderstorms struck parts of the southwest today and lighter amounts fell in parts of the Rockies and the Northern Plains, Florida and coastal Georgia.

Showers and thunderstorms strung from central Texas into the Midwest.

Tempe, Ariz., southeast of Phoenix, was hit by torrential rains. During one hour late Sunday, the University of Arizona citrus station had a record 3½ inches of rain in an hour.

At nearby Phoenix, only minor amounts of rain were recorded.

Nearly an inch of rain fell at Emporia, Kan., with about a half an inch at Del Rio, Tex., and at Green Bay, Wis. At Brunswick, Ga., nearly 1¼ inches fell in 12 hours.

Cool air moved into the north-west and was expected to produce local areas of frost in eastern Washington, Idaho and northern and western Montana tonight.

Clear skies prevailed over most of the Far West but were scattered over the central and eastern portions of the nation. In the Atlantic Ocean, 1,100 miles southeast of Puerto Rico, tropical storm Holly moved westward at about 16 miles per hour. Some intensification was expected in the storm's 45 mile an hour winds.

Blue Cross Cost To Rise Nov. 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Blue Cross of Southwest Ohio will increase its rates an average of 30 per cent Nov. 1 for about 159,000 contract holders.

William T. Cosgrove, director of marketing and communications, said the increase will affect firms contracting fewer than 100 employees under the "group plan" and those under the "group conversion" plan.

Rates for the same two classes were increased by about 25 per cent last year.

The rates are subject to an annual review and Cosgrove said the increase was necessary because of increased hospital costs.

CCA Opens New Plant

Container Corporation of America will formally open its Ravenna, Ohio, shipping container plant with two open houses this week. The announcement was made by Philip M. Goodrich, general manager of the facility.

Employees and their families will have an opportunity to preview the tour of the plant and equipment on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday, Container Corporation, in cooperation with the Ravenna Chamber of Commerce, will host an open house for the people of Ravenna and Portage County. These guests will include civic, social and business leaders of the area.

The plant, a new facility completed this year, is one of the most modern in the Container Corporation network of package fabricating plants, sales offices, and mills. The 175,000 square foot manufacturing plant presently employs approximately 75 people. The modern fabricating equipment includes an 87 inch corrugating machine for producing corrugated board, and a full complement of shipping container finishing equipment.

Company workmen went down next to pump about 13 feet of water from the elevator pit.

Normal ventilation of the eastern two miles of the mine began Sunday when officials turned on the second of two exhaust fans to clear out methane and carbon monoxide gas.

Ferretti said the first recovery team would inspect the area immediately around the base of the elevator shaft, determining the direction and quantity of the air flow and reporting its findings to the surface.

The second recovery team then would descend and proceed "as rapidly and safely to the west as possible," Ferretti said.

He said he expected the team to get about 1½ miles from the shaft before encountering impassable roof-falls or other obstructions.

At this point, the team will erect an air-tight seal, and begin the reconditioning of the mine's eastern portion.

Irish Catholics Issue Demands

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Leaders of one of Belfast's biggest Roman Catholic areas are demanding a written guarantee of immunity from arrest before bringing their barricades down.

A communique from the Central Citizens' Defense Committee said this demand was put to the British Army during talks Sunday.

"We can give no guarantees," said the army, adding that this is a matter for the home ministry.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government will lose about $300 million in expected oil leasing revenues this year because of a six-month shutdown in offshore leasing near Santa Barbara, Calif., and competition from state-owned oil leasing land in Alaska.

The Department of Interior says revenues from oil leases on federal lands will be $295 million during the current fiscal year, rather than the $595 million forecast some time ago.

Leasing in the Santa Barbara channel was suspended after a leak last Jan. 29 poured thousands of gallons of crude oil on beaches along the southern California coast. Leasing was restored under a new set of rules last month.

An interior official says bidding for oil leases in the Alaskan north slope, which concluded last week, siphoned off revenues originally expected to be drawn by federal granted leases.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Communications Commissioner Nicholas Johnson says television networks censor programs, including new broadcasts, to favor big business.

Johnson said Sunday he was "concerned by censorship being done by networks in behalf of big business interests to keep from the people information they need."

Johnson spoke on CBS' "Face the Nation."

A CBS spokesman denied censorship of news programs; responses from ABC and NBC were unavailable.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trumpeter swan, once on the edge of extinction, is making a comeback, the Department of Interior says.

The department's bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife reports successful nestings of the big birds in Nebraska and Minnesota this summer. The hatching of a young swan at Carver County Park in Minnesota is the first reported in that state in 100 years, the department says.

In 1932, the number of trumpeter swans in the continental United States was down to 69 and they were found only in Montana, Idaho and Wyoming. The department says the trumpeter population now is about 4,000, including those in Alaska.

Ship Captain Defends Self

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore, skipper of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans, insisted on being awakened if his ship was ordered to make a change of station, witnesses at his court-martial testified today.

McLemore, 40, of Long Beach, Calif., was asleep in his cabin June 3 when the Evans was cut in half by the Australian carrier Melbourne in a collision that killed 74 American sailors. The destroyer was changing station from a position ahead of the carrier to a position astern.

McLemore pleaded innocent to charges of negligence and dereliction of duty at the opening of the court-martial today. The charges say McLemore failed to give specific night orders that he be awakened and that he therefore allowed the Evans to maneuver without his supervision in difficult night operations.

Two witnesses—Lt. (j.g.) Jeffrey W. Covert of Glenview, Ill., and Lt. (j.g.) Ronald T. E. Bowler of Annapolis, Md.—testified that McLemore was very strict about being awakened whenever the ship had to make major maneuvers at night.

Other witnesses, who included Lt. (j.g.) James A. Hopson of Kansas City, Kan., the junior officer of the watch the night of the collision, said they knew of no occasion that McLemore had not been on the bridge when he knew the ship would have to change stations.

Lone Sailor Finally Lands In New World

SAN SALVADOR, Bahamas (AP) — A lone sailor missing for a month has turned up after a 114-day Atlantic crossing from Ireland undertaken to prove that a legendary monk known as Brendan the Bold could have done it 1,400 years ago.

Bill Verity, a brawny, 43-year-old Irishman who braved Hurricane Debbie en route, said he was "damn glad to be back."

The former Fort Lauderdale, Fla., boat builder put wobbly seagulls ashore Sunday after accepting a brief tow from an oil tanker.

Once on the island, the first Columbus claimed for his sovereigns in 1492, Verity encountered officialdom. His papers weren't adequate to satisfy Bahamian authorities he should be allowed into the British colony of Nassau.

But the barrel-chested Irishman said he hoped to get the red tape untangled and sail for Nassau on Tuesday.

Verity's 20-foot-boat, named Brendan the Bold after the legendary Irish monk, put into Cockburn Harbor, about 200 miles southeast of Nassau.

He had not been seen since Aug. 14, when a Coast Guard cutter helped the sunburned sailor repair a rudder battered by heavy seas 400 miles north-east of Puerto Rico.

'Laugh-In' Set With New Gags And New Faces

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Television's zaniest, most-watched series, "Laugh-In," charges into its third season tonight with old gags shelved and new faces in the cast.

There are no plans for further use of the phrase "You bet your sweet bippy." Nor will Judy Carne cry "Sack it to me!" and be drenched by bucketsful of water. Arne Johnson, doddering up to resistant Ruth Buzzi in the park, won't tempt her with Walnetos.

"Nothing should ever become predictable," said executive producer George Schlatter. "We've dropped these items to make room for new things."

One new thing will be Dick Martin's costar Dan Rowan as "Gen. Bull Right." Coproducer Ed Friendly calls this character "an eight-star general, a war buff, a burlesque of the extreme."

Dayton Papers Still On Strike

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Negotiators for pressmen at Dayton's two strike-bound newspapers Sunday voted not to submit management's latest offer to membership.

Instead, they asked for further bargaining sessions this week with Dayton Newspapers Inc., publishers of the afternoon Dayton Daily News and the morning Dayton Journal Herald.

The papers ceased publication Aug. 22 after the International Typographical Union went out on strike.

Office and editorial personnel are continuing to work.

House May Not Deliver Bill To Guarantee Student Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders and President Nixon face embarrassment and bank-ers increased costs if the house fails to deliver on a promise to boost interest on government-guaranteed student loans.

Members opposed to high interest rates and another group that wants Congress to deal firmly with student rioters teamed up before today's scheduled vote to try to block the raise.

The high interest foes, led by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., fought to kill the bill outright. The anti-riot forces aimed to block its passage in order to force consideration of an amendment cutting off federal aid to students involved in campus uprisings.

Convinced that if the bill gets involved in the campus unrest controversy it will never be enacted, Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., its manager, called it up today under a procedure preventing any amendments from being offered, but requiring a two-thirds majority for passage.

The House leaders concern arose because foes needed to muster only one vote more than one-third in opposition.

Assured by congressional leaders the bill would pass early in September, Nixon urged the bankers to make loans carrying the 7 per cent rate fixed by law to students who need the money now to enter college. Since the prime interest rate went to 8½ per cent banks have shown little interest in the program.

Reports coming to the U.S. Office of Education indicate the banks are responding to Nixon's plea. This left it up to the House to deliver the bill, which already has passed the Senate although in different form.

The bill authorizes the government to pay up to 3 per cent additional interest on the student loans. The amount would be adjusted quarterly to reflect conditions in the money market but the statutory limit would remain at 7 per cent. Under the program the government pays the interest while the student is in college and guarantees repayment.

Eight members of the Army's Special Forces, the Green Berets, are being held in the slaying. The Army has not yet announced whether the men will be prosecuted.

"From what I know about it, the CIA is in the clear," Mansfield said in an interview.

Mansfield would not disclose the source of his information.

Mansfield said he does not know enough about the case to say whether Green Berets—one of them a former commander of Special Service Forces in Vietnam—should face prosecution.

"This situation has received so much publicity and so many conflicting opinions that it will have to be cleared up," the Montana senator said.

"I'm sure it will be, by the appropriate committees and at the appropriate time," he added.

In the Senate, that would include the Armed Services Committee and two subcommittees of the Appropriations and Armed Services Committees which meet secretly to oversee CIA operations.

The Vietnamese victim, Thau Khac Chuyen, reportedly was slain about June 20. His body has not been found.

6 Die, 200 Hurt As Stand Falls

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — At least six persons were killed and nearly 200 injured today when a spectators' stand collapsed at the village of Moita do Ribatejo, where spectators were watching the running of the bulls.

Police said the death toll could be higher as reports continued to trickle into Lisbon from five regional hospitals.

It was learned that a steel scaffolding built to sustain a wooden platform suddenly gave in under the weight of hundreds of spectators.

CCA Opens New Plant

Container Corporation of America will formally open its Ravenna, Ohio, shipping container plant with two open houses this week. The announcement was made by Philip M. Goodrich, general manager of the facility.

Employees and their families will have an opportunity to preview the tour of the plant and equipment on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday, Container Corporation, in cooperation with the Ravenna Chamber of Commerce, will host an open house for the people of Ravenna and Portage County. These guests will include civic, social and business leaders of the area.

The plant, a new facility completed this year, is one of the most modern in the Container Corporation network of package fabricating plants, sales offices, and mills. The 175,000 square foot manufacturing plant presently employs approximately 75 people. The modern fabricating equipment includes an 87 inch corrugating machine for producing corrugated board, and a full complement of shipping container finishing equipment.

dropped by bucket to the bottom of Atha's Run shaft to check the elevator guides and cables.

Company workmen went down next to pump about 13 feet of water from the elevator pit.

Normal ventilation of the eastern two miles of the mine began Sunday when officials turned on the second of two exhaust fans to clear out methane and carbon monoxide gas.

Ferretti said the first recovery team would inspect the area immediately around the base of the elevator shaft, determining the direction and quantity of the air flow and reporting its findings to the surface.

The second recovery team then would descend and proceed "as rapidly and safely to the west as possible," Ferretti said. He said he expected the team to get about 1½ miles from the shaft before encountering impassable roof-falls or other obstructions.

At this point, the team will erect an air-tight seal, and begin the reconditioning of the mine's eastern portion.

Irish Catholics Issue Demands

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Leaders of one of Belfast's biggest Roman Catholic areas are demanding a written guarantee of immunity from arrest before bringing their barricades down.

A communique from the Central Citizens' Defense Committee said this demand was put to the British Army during talks Sunday.

"We can give no guarantees," said the army, adding that this is a matter for the home ministry.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government will lose about $300 million in expected oil leasing revenues this year because of a six-month shutdown in offshore leasing near Santa Barbara, Calif., and competition from state-owned oil leasing land in Alaska.

The Department of Interior says revenues from oil leases on federal lands will be $292 million during the current fiscal year, rather than the $595 million forecast some time ago.

Leasing in the Santa Barbara channel was suspended after a leak last Jan. 29 poured thousands of gallons of crude oil on beaches along the southern California coast. Leasing was restored under a new set of rules last month.

An interior official says bidding for oil leases in the Alaskan north slope, which concluded last week, siphoned off revenues originally expected to be drawn by federal granted leases.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Communications Commissioner Nicholas Johnson says television networks censor programs, including new broadcasts, to favor big business.

Johnson said Sunday he was "concerned by censorship being done by networks in behalf of big business interests to keep from the people information they need."

Johnson spoke on CBS'S "Face the Nation."

A CBS spokesman denied censorship of news programs; responses from ABC and NBC were unavailable.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trumpeter swan, once on the edge of extinction, is making a comeback, the Department of Interior says.

The department's bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife reports successful nestings of the big birds in Nebraska and Minnesota this summer. The hatching of a young swan at Carver County Park in Minnesota is the first reported in that state in 100 years, the department says.

In 1932, the number of trumpeter swans in the continental United States was down to 69 and they were found only in Montana, Idaho and Wyoming. The department says the trumpeter population now is about 4,000, including those in Alaska.

Ship Captain Defends Self

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore, skipper of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans, insisted on being awakened if his ship was ordered to make a change of station, witnesses at his court-martial testified today.

McLemore, 40, of Long Beach, Calif., was asleep in his cabin June 3 when the Evans was cut in half by the Australian carrier Melbourne in a collision that killed 74 American sailors. The destroyer was changing station from a position ahead of the carrier to a position astern.

McLemore pleaded innocent to charges of negligence and dereliction of duty at the opening of the court-martial today. The charges say McLemore failed to give specific night orders that he be awakened and that he therefore allowed the Evans to maneuver without his supervision in difficult night operations.

Two witnesses—Lt. (j.g.) Jeffrey W. Covert of Glenview, Ill., and Lt. (j.g.) Ronald T. E. Bowler of Annapolis, Md.—testified that McLemore was very strict about being awakened whenever the ship had to make major maneuvers at night.

Other witnesses, who included Lt. (j.g.) James A. Hopson of Kansas City, Kan., the junior officer of the watch the night of the collision, said they knew of no occasion that McLemore had not been on the bridge when he knew the ship would have to change stations.

Lone Sailor Finally Lands In New World

SAN SALVADOR, Bahamas (AP) — A lone sailor missing for a month has turned up after a 114-day Atlantic crossing from Ireland undertaken to prove that a legendary monk known as Brendan the Bold could have done it 1,400 years ago.

Bill Verity, a brawny, 43-year-old Irishman who braved Hurricane Debbie en route, said he was "damn glad to be back."

The former Fort Lauderdale, Fla., boat builder put wobbly seagulls ashore Sunday after accepting a brief tow from an oil tanker.

Once on the island, the first Columbus claimed for his sovereigns in 1492, Verity encountered officialdom. His papers weren't adequate to satisfy Bahamian authorities he should be allowed into the British colony of Nassau.

But the barrel-chested Irishman said he hoped to get the red tape untangled and sail for Nassau on Tuesday.

Verity's 20-foot-boat, named Brendan the Bold after the legendary Irish monk, put into Cockburn Harbor, about 200 miles southeast of Nassau.

He had not been seen since Aug. 14, when a Coast Guard cutter helped the sunburned sailor repair a rudder battered by heavy seas 400 miles north-east of Puerto Rico.

House May Not Deliver Bill To Guarantee Student Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders and President Nixon face embarrassment and bankers increased costs if the house fails to deliver on a promise to boost interest on government-guaranteed student loans.

Early this year, the Japanese voluntarily imposed a limit of 7 million tons on their exports to the U.S., an action aimed at averting import restrictions urged by some American steel producers.

Steel said a Japanese mission was recently sent to the U.S. to determine customers' needs for next year and to decide on allocations for brokers and direct customers.

"With demand exceeding their supply, Japanese steel producers feel a reduced need to absorb freight costs to make sales," the magazine said.

"It appears they want to concentrate their sales in U.S. coastal areas during the coming winter and to work inland only after the St. Lawrence Seaway opens next spring," Steel said.

The magazine said Japanese producers were apparently favoring steady customers in their rationing, leaving the largest cuts against distributors, processors and other resellers.

Steel estimated American raw steel production last week at 2,635,000 net tons, up 4 per cent from the week before. It said strong demand could give domestic producers a chance to set a raw steel production record of 137 million net tons in 1969.

Steel's price composite on the No. 1 steelmaking scrap held steady at $35.33 a gross ton after rising more than one month to its highest level in three years.

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 Days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S.

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with formerly "forbidden" foods, such as steaks, chicken, gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs and still lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to

NEW YORK (AP) — The vanguard of the good guys in the white coats returned to network television Sunday night with NBC's premiere of "The Bold Ones." There will be more on the other networks soon.

The hour show, constructed around recent advances in surgery and medicine, built to its climax on the desperate need of one man for a kidney transplant and efforts to save the waning life of the accident victim who was the prospective donor.

Three dedicated doctors will be the continuing heroes of the hospital-oriented segments which will rotate with two other unrelated series under the single title, "The Bold Ones." Judging from the opening show, however, there will be important, inanimate stars—heart-lung machines, bypass pumps, computers and other gleaming tools in the new arsenal of healing.

The story, dressed beautifully in slick production, was pretty familiar under the trapping. A widower with four young children needs a new kidney if he is to survive. A young man is injured and appears to be dying. The family doctor won't give up on the life of his patient and the pressure builds.

At one point the dialogue skirted cautiously around the controversial definition of "the moment of death," but left the matter up in the air.

The show had a strange and somewhat unsatisfactory wind-up. The accident victim showed signs of improvement and underwent an emergency heart operation, but it was not known if he suffered brain damage. The hunt for a kidney donor was picked up again.

E. G. Marshall played the head of an ultra modern hospital with crisp authority. John Saxon and David Hartman are, respectively, the head surgeon and chief of medicine, and were properly dedicated and tense.

Earlier, "The Bill Cosby Show," with Bill playing a high school physical education teacher, joined the network's Sunday lineup. The program, while it must be counted as a situation comedy, has the Cosby attitude and approach to humor that one finds in his specials and monologues.

The first show had Cosby, out jogging, pausing to answer an outside telephone and innocently becoming involved in a garage man's domestic squabbles and then getting picked up as a burglary suspect. That sounds routine for any situation comedy, but the comedian's special brand of understated wry humor set it quite apart.

It is a pleasant show, designed for chuckles rather than loud screams.

Recommended tonight: "My World and Welcome to It," NBC, premiere, 7:30-8 EDT. William Windom in a comedy combining cartoons and live actors and based on James Thurber's work and attitudes: "Pro Football: Big Game America," CBS, 10-11, special tribute on the 50th anniversary of the game.

NEW YORK (AP) — The vanguard of the good guys in the white coats returned to network television Sunday night with NBC's premiere of "The Bold Ones." There will be more on the other networks soon.

The hour show, constructed around recent advances in surgery and medicine, built to its climax on the desperate need of one man for a kidney transplant and efforts to save the waning life of the accident victim who was the prospective donor.

Three dedicated doctors will be the continuing heroes of the hospital-oriented segments which will rotate with two other unrelated series under the single title, "The Bold Ones." Not So Naive

As practically everybody knows, the United States is rapidly becoming a predominantly urban society and the attendant problems are truly enormous. And don't let anybody tell you that the big city is just a lot of small towns put together. A city has a character of its own that influences its inhabitants in an entirely different way than small towns do.

This fact was dramatically demonstrated when Thornton Wilder's play "Our Town" was performed at Jefferson Park Junior High School in New York City recently. The 1938 drama was highly praised at the time it was written for its accurate portrayal of the values, triumphs and heartbreaks of small town living.

What was the reaction of the performers and audience in the recent production in New York City? Nobody could identify with it. It was so simple that they couldn't believe it.

The cast of characters might as well have come from another nation — or another world.

A leading objection was that the cast of characters actually seemed to care for each other. This was contrary to the experience of the New Yorkers, students and adults alike. "It doesn't have much to do with me," said one student.

It is a little scary and sad to think that the small town era is passing and with it a kind of wholesomeness that is not sophisticated enough for the worldly inhabitants of the cities.

The problem is that the old values are being chucked without the substitution of new ones. The result is a moral void that creates all sorts of social problems from an increase in nervous breakdowns to growing crime rate.

Maybe, someday, Americans will learn how to live together in cities in an entirely new way. But one cannot be blamed for wistfully thinking that some of the small town values weren't as naive as they appear to many city dwellers.

Budget Shift

For the first half of the year, defense purchases comprised a smaller part of the Gross National Product than for any similar period since the end of 1966. Very likely the second half will be even smaller, in view of announced cuts in the defense budget.

The transition in the federal budget should become more pronounced in the next few years. The military percentage of the total budget is dropping, and essential civilian parts are growing.

Some of this change is more by accident than design. Interest payments on the national debt continue to rise, because of higher rates. Payments under social security, medicare and other welfare programs continue to rise, largely because of increased benefits written in by Congress.

"THAT LUMP on my twin brother's head," explained a little girl to her teacher, "is where Daddy helped him last night with his arithmetic problems for class today."

Critic George Oppenheimer recalls a good story about the fiery-tempered old French star and boulevardier, Lucien Guitry. He was driving down the Champs Elysees one sunny afternoon with his wife when an argument between them suddenly flared into open warfare. Lucien clobbered his bride over the head with a rolled-up copy of the Paris Soir. Mme. Guitry thereupon stuck her head out of the car window and hollered for help. Mons. Guitry, master of every situation, grasped her hand and was patting it affectionately when the gendarmes came running up. "There, there, my beloved," they heard him cooing. "Do not be frightened. Your Lucien is here beside you!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there a special routine that a doctor follows when he examines a patient for the first time? This is a matter of personal interest and curiosity that comes from my deep regard for my own family doctor. We live in a small town where there are no large hospitals, but we feel that we get the best of modern medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. G.I.O., Nevada Dear Mr. and Mrs. O: It is always gratifying to receive letters praising the family physician and acknowledging his accomplishments.

I have said repeatedly that the doctor in general practice is in reality a specialist. This means a specialist in the art of handling the total patient, including his physical ailments, his emotional problems and the social structure of his family life.

As a specialist, I have limitless respect for the vast knowledge that the family physician must have when he assumes responsibility for the family's health.

There is a very specific routine, from which a doctor may vary at times, for coming to the conclusion about the nature of obvious or unusual disease.

The art of medicine and the science of recognizing disease is known as "diagnosis." A physician is trained to differentiate similar symptoms and distinguish between them. This is known as "differential diagnosis."

The proper interpretation of symptoms leads him on the road to proper diagnosis.

He accumulates data through the history of the patient which starts with his family background and his past illnesses, leading up to his present illness.

It is astonishing how important a patient's social habits, his type of work and the nature of his recreation can be to the image that is presented to his doctor.

Sometimes it takes a great many visits for the doctor to capture this image and induce the patient to reveal confidences that contribute to the solution of his problems.

Some intimacies are never revealed and may hide the proper interpretation of the physical as well as the emotional content of a patient's illness.

The actual physical examination for the detection of signs and evidence of disease is a thorough one and includes a doctor's use of all faculties.

He sees the color of the hair, the size of the pupils of the eyes, the texture of the skin. He carefully notes the characteristics of the walk and makes dozens of other observations that add to his knowledge of his patient.

With special instruments, he accumulates the facts like blood pressure readings, cardiograms and X-rays. Blood studies and urine examination are all part of the routine study of the general examination.

There are perhaps a hundred different tests that can be made on the blood alone. Obviously, this would be a waste in all cases. The family doctor must know when any of these tests are necessary.

We must learn to study the future as carefully as we study the past says Frank P. Davidson, president of the Institute for the Future. At least, we could study the future on an equal basis — your guess is as good as ours!

The Institute is only a year old. Let's hope it has a bright future — it doesn't have much of a past.

Studying the future could be a new kind of ball game — crystal ball, that is.

Purpose of the Institute For the Future, says Davidson, is not actually to predict the future course of events but to formulate ways of looking at the future. Unfortunately, most of us would find it difficult to look at something that's still out of sight.

Not all need worry about the future, of course, especially those who've had such interesting pasts.

At that, study of the future could be a fascinating endeavor — we've always wondered what was just around the corner.

This column, for one, could use a new way to look at the future. If you recall, early last spring this column predicted the St. Louis Cardinals would beat the Detroit Tigers in this year's World Series, come October. Enough said!!!

Coming In On The 747

By WAYNE PARRISH
For John Chamberlain

If you're an airline passenger, you've got both good and bad things to look forward to during the 1970s.

In the air you'll have a great new experience with spacious wide-bodied airplane cabins that will provide an entirely new dimension in comfortable air travel.

Your troubles will be on the ground; problems facing the airlines at congested major airports can only be described as horrendous. Yet all regular air travelers know that for every trip that encounters delays there are many others — most others, in fact — that leave on time and arrive on time. It's the uncertainty that is frustrating.

Traffic forecasts are something to ponder. Last year U.S. airlines carried about 150 million passengers. By 1985 this number is expected to quadruple to 600 million. Bigger and better airplanes are not the problem. It's the task of getting all these passengers and their luggage to and from the airports, and solving air traffic problems so the airplanes can get on and off the ground within reasonable times and to do so safely.

There is no lack of ideas about how to handle things, it's the lack of funds and the lag in planning and the divided jurisdictions. The federal government is responsible for air traffic control, which embraces both en route flying and getting the airplanes on and off airports, and much work is in process in this area. But airports themselves, with the exception of federally-owned and operated Washington National and Dulles International serving the national capital, are in the hands of cities or counties or local airport authorities. Some airport requirements exceed the ability of local bodies to finance the necessary projects. New major airports cost from $100 to $400 million.

The air traveler, however, will be the beneficiary of both an evolution and a revolution in aircraft within the next few years. On Dec. 15 Pan American World Airways will inaugurate service with the first of the big jumbo jets, the Boeing 747. Other airlines will begin using these jumbos during 1970 and 1971.

Although the 747 was designed for an absolute maximum of 490 passengers, no airline would dream of stacking that many customers in one. Most airlines will have 360 to 370 seats in combination luxury first-class and tourist configurations. What will surprise you as an air traveler is that you won't walk into the conventional "tube" which has been standard ever since the airlines came into existence. You'll walk into a compartmented series of "living rooms," somewhat like theatres, nine and ten seats abreast but with aisles and dividers to break up the cramped feeling.

You won't even see the traditional food galleys, for these have been placed on a deck below out of sight. Serving to the main deck will be done by elevators.

In a couple of years there will be two additional wide-bodied airplanes as wide inside as the 747, but with 250 and 300 seats, for intermediate routes. These will be the Lockheed 1011 Tristar and the McDonnell Douglas DC-10, each with high ceiling space per passenger.

The revolution to come involves the supersonic airplane, called an SST, which will bring a substantial increase in speeds, but if you want to fly in an American SST, you'll have to wait until around 1980. The Boeing Company is in the design stage for the American airplane, with financing not yet assured. The two now being tested are not American; they are the British - French Concorde and the Soviet Tu-144, each with about 130 seats and each designed to go about twice the speed of sound, or about 1400 and possibly 1500 miles per hour.

There has been a lot of discussion about these super-sonics because when they fly above the speed of sound they create 'sonic' waves which produce a bang or a boom on the ground. The experts believe the sound effects have been exaggerated and that flying across the U.S. will be accepted and acceptable in due course. Commercial airliners flying at 60,000 feet altitude, or over ten miles above the earth, may not create more than a muffled boom that couldn't be heard over today's normal city traffic.

The value of supersonic flying can't be debated, for it will enable heads of government and all others to trim down tiring long trips. The Concorde, for example, if it leaves Paris at 9 a.m. will arrive over New York at 7 a.m., before it left Paris, because it will travel faster than the sun. Instead of a five or six-hour flight, it will do the distance in three hours.

Tina Chen Gets Role

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

LIHUE, Hawaii (AP) — Tina Chen is calm, delicate-looking and quiet-spoken, as you would expect any Chinese young woman to be. But that Oriental tradition that fits her for one of her best star-making roles in recent times.

Lovely, 24-year-old Tina, with only one minor film role to her credit, was picked to play Nyuk Tsin in "The Hawaiians." Readers of the James Michener novel will recall her as one of the most memorable characters—a resolute Chinese woman who is not accepted by her husband as his true wife (because he has another wife in China), who accompanies him to the leper colony on Molokai, who scrims to buy land and thus found a financial dynasty in Hawaii.

"If Tina doesn't win an Academy nomination, I'll be very much surprised," remarks Tom Gires, director of "The Hawaiians."

Unlike the earlier film based on Michener's novel, which was cast largely with Europeans, "The Hawaiians" Orientals are real Orientals. Producer Walter Mirisch spent much time in New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles interviewing and testing young Chinese and Japanese performers. One of his most unlikely choices was the beautiful hematologist, Tina Chen.

She was born in Chungking, granddaughter of the first premier of the Kuomintang of the Chinese Republic. Her family fled China after the Communist takeover, and she was educated in Hong Kong, Taipei and Tokyo, then took a B.S. in pre-med at the University of Hartford.

"I've always been in love with acting, but my parents didn't approve," she remarked. "They insisted that I graduate from college, then I would do anything I wanted. They hoped that I would go on and get my degree in medicine, but the thought of four more years of college plus internship and residency didn't appeal to me. So I went to New York and got a job at the Blood Center. But I really went to New York because I hoped to get an acting career started."

Progress was slow at first. She did win a television role in a CBS Playhouse special "The Final War of Ollie Winter," playing a Vietnamese. Nothing followed, and Tina studied dramatics with Sandy Meisner and acted in an occasional off-Broadway play, meanwhile working days as a blood researcher. She played a small role as Arlo Guthrie's girlfriend in the film "Alice's Restaurant," then came the tryout for "The Hawaiians."

"My agent called up about it," she said. "I went to see Mr. Mirisch and he gave me a script I read for him the same day. They flew me to Hollywood for a test and two days later they told me I had the role."

Before the advent of modern dentistry, people often went to blacksmiths to have their teeth fixed.

The price of poverty: It is estimated that the 45 million Americans living at or below the poverty line have four times as much heart disease, six times as much mental and nervous illness, and six times as many cases of high blood pressure as those in the highest income brackets. Does poverty make them sick—or does sickness keep them poor?

Tests are said to have shown that the blocks don't decompose.

Worth remembering: "A scandalmonger is a person who puts who and who together and gets WHEW!"

Man egotistically feels himself the center of the universe. But the sun could hold a million planets the size of earth, and in the far reaches of space are stars so vast they contain a mass equal to 500 million suns the size of ours.

Not So Naive

As practically everybody knows, the United States is rapidly becoming a predominantly urban society and the attendant problems are truly enormous.

And don't let anybody tell you that the big city is just a lot of small towns put together. A city has a character of its own that influences its inhabitants in an entirely different way than small towns do.

This fact was dramatically demonstrated when Thornton Wilder's play "Our Town" was performed at Jefferson Park Junior High School in New York City recently. The 1938 drama was highly praised at the time it was written for its accurate portrayal of the values, triumphs and heartbreaks of small town living.

What was the reaction of the performers and audience in the recent production in New York City? Nobody could identify with it. It was so simple that they couldn't believe it.

The cast of characters might as well have come from another nation — or another world.

A leading objection was that the cast of characters actually seemed to care for each other. This was contrary to the experience of the New Yorkers, students and adults alike. "It doesn't have much to do with me," said one student.

It is a little scary and sad to think that the small town era is passing and with it a kind of wholesomeness that is not sophisticated enough for the worldly inhabitants of the cities.

The problem is that the old values are being chucked without the substitution of new ones. The result is a moral void that creates all sorts of social problems from an increase in nervous breakdowns to growing crime rate.

Maybe, someday, Americans will learn how to live together in cities in an entirely new way. But one cannot be blamed for wistfully thinking that some of the small town values weren't as naive as they appear to many city dwellers.

Budget Shift

For the first half of the year, defense purchases comprised a smaller part of the Gross National Product than for any similar period since the end of 1966. Very likely the second half will be even smaller, in view of announced cuts in the defense budget.

The transition in the federal budget should become more pronounced in the next few years. The military percentage of the total budget is dropping, and essential civilian parts are growing.

Some of this change is more by accident than design. Interest payments on the national debt continue to rise, because of higher rates. Payments under social security, medicare and other welfare programs continue to rise, largely because of increased benefits written in by Congress.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

"THAT LUMP on my twin brother's head," explained a little girl to her teacher, "is where Daddy helped him last night with his arithmetic problems for class today."

Critic George Oppenheimer recalls a good story about the fiery-tempered old French star and boulevardier, Lucien Guitry. He was driving down the Champs Elysees one sunny afternoon with his wife when an argument between them suddenly flared into open warfare. Lucien clobbered his bride over the head with a rolled-up copy of the Paris Solr. Mme. Guitry thereupon stuck her head out of the car window and hollered for help. Mons. Guitry, master of every situation, grasped her hand and was patting it affectionately when the gendarmes came running up. "There, there, my beloved," they heard him cooing. "Do not be frightened. Your Lucien is here beside you!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there a special routine that a doctor follows when he examines a patient for the first time? This is a matter of personal interest and curiosity that comes from my deep regard for my own family doctor. We live in a small town where there are no large hospitals, but we feel that we get the best of modern medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. G.I.O. Nevada Dear Mr. and Mrs. O: It is always gratifying to receive letters praising the family physician and acknowledging his accomplishments.

I have said repeatedly that the doctor in general practice is in reality a specialist. This means a specialist in the art of handling the total patient, including his physical ailments, his emotional problems and the social structure of his family life.

As a specialist, I have limitless respect for the vast knowledge that the family physician must have when he assumes responsibility for the family's health.

There is a very specific routine, from which a doctor may vary at times, for coming to the conclusion about the nature of obvious or unusual disease.

The art of medicine and the science of recognizing disease is known as "diagnosis." A physician is trained to differentiate similar symptoms and distinguish between them. This is known as "differential diagnosis."

The proper interpretation of symptoms leads him on the road to proper diagnosis.

He accumulates data through the history of the patient which starts with his family background and his past illnesses, leading up to his present illness.

It is astonishing how important a patient's social habits, his type of work and the nature of his recreation can be to the image that is presented to his doctor.

Sometimes it takes a great many visits for the doctor to capture this image and induce the patient to reveal confidences that contribute to the solution of his problems.

Some intimacies are never revealed and may hide the proper interpretation of the physical as well as the emotional content of a patient's illness.

The actual physical examination for the detection of signs and evidence of disease is a thorough one and includes a doctor's use of all faculties.

He sees the color of the hair, the size of the pupils of the eyes, the texture of the skin. He carefully notes the characteristics of the walk and makes dozens of other observations that add to his knowledge of his patient.

With special instruments, he accumulates the facts like blood pressure readings, cardiograms and X-rays. Blood studies and urine examination are all part of the routine study of the general examination.

There are perhaps a hundred different tests that can be made on the blood alone. Obviously, this would be a waste in all cases. The family doctor must know when any of these tests are necessary.

We must learn to study the future as carefully as we study the past says Frank P. Davidson, president of the Institute for the Future. At least, we could study the future on an equal basis — your guess is as good as ours!

The Institute is only a year old. Let's hope it has a bright future — it doesn't have much of a past.

Studying the future could be a new kind of ball game — crystal ball, that is.

Purpose of the Institute for the Future, says Davidson, is not actually to predict the future course of events but to formulate ways of looking at the future. Unfortunately, most of us would find it difficult to look at something that's still out of sight.

Not all need worry about the future, of course, especially those who've had such interesting pasts.

At that, study of the future could be a fascinating endeavor — we've always wondered what was just around the corner.

This column, for one, could use a new way to look at the future. If you recall, early last spring this column predicted the St. Louis Cardinals would beat the Detroit Tigers in this year's World Series, come October. Enough said!!

Coming In On The 747

By WAYNE PARKISH
For John Chamberlain

If you're an airline passenger, you've got both good and bad things to look forward to during the 1970s.

In the air you'll have a great new experience with spacious wide-bodied airplane cabins that will provide an entirely new dimension in comfortable air travel.

Your troubles will be on the ground; problems facing the airlines at congested major airports can only be described as horrendous. Yet all regular air travelers know that for every trip that encounters delays there are many others — most others, in fact — that leave on time and arrive on time. It's the uncertainty that is frustrating.

Traffic forecasts are something to ponder. Last year U.S. airlines carried about 150 million passengers. By 1985 this number is expected to quadruple to 600 million. Bigger and better airplanes are not the problem. It's the task of getting all these passengers and their luggage to and from the airports, and solving air traffic problems so the airplanes can get on and off the ground within reasonable times and to do so safely.

There is no lack of ideas about how to handle things, it's the lack of funds and the lag in planning and the divided jurisdictions. The federal government is responsible for air traffic control, which embraces both en route flying and getting the airplanes on and off airports, and much work is in process in this area. But airports themselves, with the exception of federally-owned and operated Washington National and Dulles International serving the national capital, are in the hands of cities or counties or local airport authorities. Some airport requirements exceed the ability of local bodies to finance the necessary projects. New major airports cost from $100 to $400 million.

The air traveler, however, will be the beneficiary of both an evolution and a revolution in aircraft within the next few years. On Dec. 15 Pan American World Airways will inaugurate service with the first of the big jumbo jets, the Boeing 747. Other airlines will begin using these jumbos during 1970 and 1971.

Although the 747 was designed for an absolute maximum of 490 passengers, no airline would dream of stacking that many customers in one. Most airlines will have 360 to 370 seats in combination luxury first-class and tourist configurations. What will surprise you as an air traveler is that you won't walk into the conventional "tube" which has been standard ever since the airlines came into existence. You'll walk into a compartmented series of "living rooms," somewhat like theatres, nine and ten seats abreast but with aisles and dividers to break up the cramped feeling. You won't even see the traditional food galley, for these have been placed on a deck below out of sight. Serving to the main deck will be done by elevators.

In a couple of years there will be two additional wide-bodied airplanes as wide inside as the 747, but with 250 and 300 seats, for intermediate routes. These will be the Lockheed 1011 Tristar and the McDonnell Douglas DC-10, each with high ceiling space per passenger.

The revolution to come involves the supersonic airplane, called an SST, which will bring a substantial increase in speeds, but if you want to fly in an American SST, you'll have to wait until around 1980. The Boeing Company is in the design stage for the American airplane, with financing not yet assured. The two now being tested are not American; they are the British-French Concorde and the Soviet Tu-144, each with about 130 seats and each designed to go about twice the speed of sound, or about 1400 and possibly 1500 miles per hour.

There has been a lot of discussion about these super-sonics because when they fly above the speed of sound they create "sonic" waves which produce a bang or a boom on the ground. The experts believe the sound effects have been exaggerated and that flying miles above the earth, may not create more than a muffled boom that couldn't be heard over today's normal city traffic.

The value of supersonic flying can't be debated, for it will enable heads of government and all others to trim down tiring long trips. The Concorde, for example, if it leaves Paris at 9 a.m., will arrive over New York at 7 a.m., before it left Paris, because it will travel faster than the sun. Instead of a five or six-hour flight, it will do the distance in three hours.

Tina Chen Gets Role

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

LIHUE, Hawaii (AP) — Tina Chen is calm, delicate-looking and quiet-spoken, as you would expect any Chinese young woman to be. But that Oriental tradition hides a firm determination that fits her for one of her best star-making roles in recent times.

Lovely, 24-year-old Tina, with only one minor film role to her credit, was picked to play Nyuk Tsin in "The Hawaiians." Readers of the James Michener novel will recall her as one of the most memorable characters—a resolute Chinese woman who is not accepted by her husband as his true wife (because he has another wife in China), who accompanies him to the leper colony on Molokai, who scrims to buy land and thus found a financial dynasty in Hawaii.

"If Tina doesn't win an Academy nomination, I'll be very much surprised," remarks Tom Gires, director of "The Hawaiians." Unlike the earlier film based on Michener's novel, which was cast largely with Europeans, "The Hawaiians" Orientals are real Orientals. Producer Walter Mirisch spent much time in New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles interviewing and testing young Chinese and Japanese performers. One of his most unlikely choices was a beautiful hematologist, Tina Chen.

She was born in Chungking, granddaughter of the first premier of the Kuomintang of the Chinese Republic. Her family fled China after the Communist takeover, and she was educated in Hong Kong, Taipei and Tokyo, then took a B.S. in pre-med at the University of Hartford.

"I've always been in love with acting, but my parents didn't approve," she remarked. "They insisted that I graduate from college, then I would do anything I wanted. They hoped that I would go on and get my degree in medicine, but the thought of four more years of college plus internship and residency didn't appeal to me. So I went to New York and got a job at the Blood Center. But I really went to New York because I hoped to get an acting career started."

Progress was slow at first. She did win a television role, in a CBS Playhouse special "The Final War of Ollie Winter," playing a Vietnamese. Nothing followed, and Tina studied dramatics with Sandy Meisner and acted in an occasional off-Broadway play, meanwhile working days as a blood researcher. She played a small role as Arlo Guthrie's girlfriend in the film "Alice's Restaurant," then came the tryout for "The Hawaiians."

"My agent called up about it," she said. "I went to see Mr. Mirisch and he gave me a script I read for him the same day. They flew me to Hollywood for a test and two days later they told me I had the role."

given in marriage by her father, the bride selected for her wedding day a gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace. The A-line silhouette of the gown featured a sabrina neckline, long bridal point sleeves and an empire waistline. The built-in train of lace flowed gracefully into chapel length. A crown of pearls and lace held her elbow length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley atop a Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Calvert. She wore a pale green brocade satin gown with an empire waistline and long full sleeves. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Elaine Spangler, sister of the bride; Miss Susan Marie Richardson, sister of the groom, and Miss Wanda Lou Peters, a cousin of the bride. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor in avocado green. Baskets of yellow daisy pompons were carried by the attendants and they each wore birthstone necklaces, gifts of the bride. The gowns worn by the attendants were made by Mrs. Spangler, mother of the bride.

Sharon Eileen Richardson, flower girl, was dressed as the bridesmaid in white. Samuel Richardson was ring bearer. Best man was Mr. John Hang with Mr. Warren Spangler, brother of the bride; Mr. Randy Tatman and Mr. Jack Varble seating the guests.

Mrs. Spangler was attired in a pink A-line dress and wore a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Richardson wore a brown dress with a corsage of tangerine carnations and white sweetheart roses.

A reception in the Service Center of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church followed the ceremony. The wedding cake, surrounded with yellow daisy pompons and greenery centered the bride's table. Hostesses were Miss Anne Joyce, Miss Kay Hay, Miss Malinda Anderson, Miss Darlene Neff and Miss Sue Kull.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a navy blue coat dress with red, white and blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Richardson is a graduate of Circleville High School and will be employed by Ellman and Ellman, attorneys in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Richardson, also a graduate of Circleville High School, is a junior at Wayne State University in Detroit, Mich., majoring in chemistry and secondary education.

Oil Tanker Opens Way To Northwest

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly five centuries after sailors began the search for a Northwest Passage above Canada, the SS Manhattan's become the first commercial vessel to negotiate the icy waters.

But the historic voyage of the massive tanker, specially fitted with icebreaking equipment, hasn't proved that the treacherous northern route is feasible for shipping.

The 1,005-foot, 115,000-dead-weight-ton ship smashed through heavy ice north of the Arctic Circle Sunday to hit open water at the mouth of Prince of Wales Strait.

"There's nothing in her way now," said a spokesman for Humble Oil Co., the ship's owner. Her final destination, Point Barrow, Alaska, is a week away.

As far back as 1498, when John Cabot explored the eastern end of the route, Europeans sought the Northwest Passage as a shortcut to the riches and spices of the Far East. The great trading companies sponsored several attempts to find the route.

Now the treasure isn't spices, but oil, the vast supply on Alaska's northern slope. A Northwest passage open to huge tankers would cut thousands of miles and dollars from the trip around South America.

Churches To Let Black Ministers Channel Funds

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — American Protestant and Orthodox leaders have outlined their answer to the Black Manifesto — they'll put big money into black economic advancement, and let black churchmen decide who uses it and how.

"Black self-determination" and "trust in our black brethren" were cited as keystones of the approach. Its lack of limitations was sharply criticized by some whites.

It was hammered out Thursday in a sometimes heated session of the general board of the National Council of Churches which embraces 33 denominations with a total of more than 42 million members.

Their top leaders make up the policy-making board.

They rejected the threatening ideology of the manifesto, but recognized the Black Economic Development Conference, which issued it, as an agency "in the black community directed toward the achievement of economic justice."

The group also was termed as the aspiration of black churchmen — and these churchmen were designated to receive the "programmatic expression of large-scale church funding, including $500,000 immediately, to use as they judge best."

The solution, skirting direct funding of the BEDC but financing black churchmen who support it, was similar to that adopted in last week's Episcopal Church convention.

Some white delegates here, including leaders of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), pushed unsuccessfully for amendments aimed at prohibiting use of church funds to support groups advocating violence or government overthrow.

The Rev. Dr. George G. Beazley of Indianapolis declared:

"If we give this money with no strings attached, there is a high degree of probability that it will go to the Black Economic Development Conference, whose own document states its purpose is to overthrow the American system."

Negro churchmen, however, strongly opposed any restrictions, saying this would be a slur on their honor and intentions.

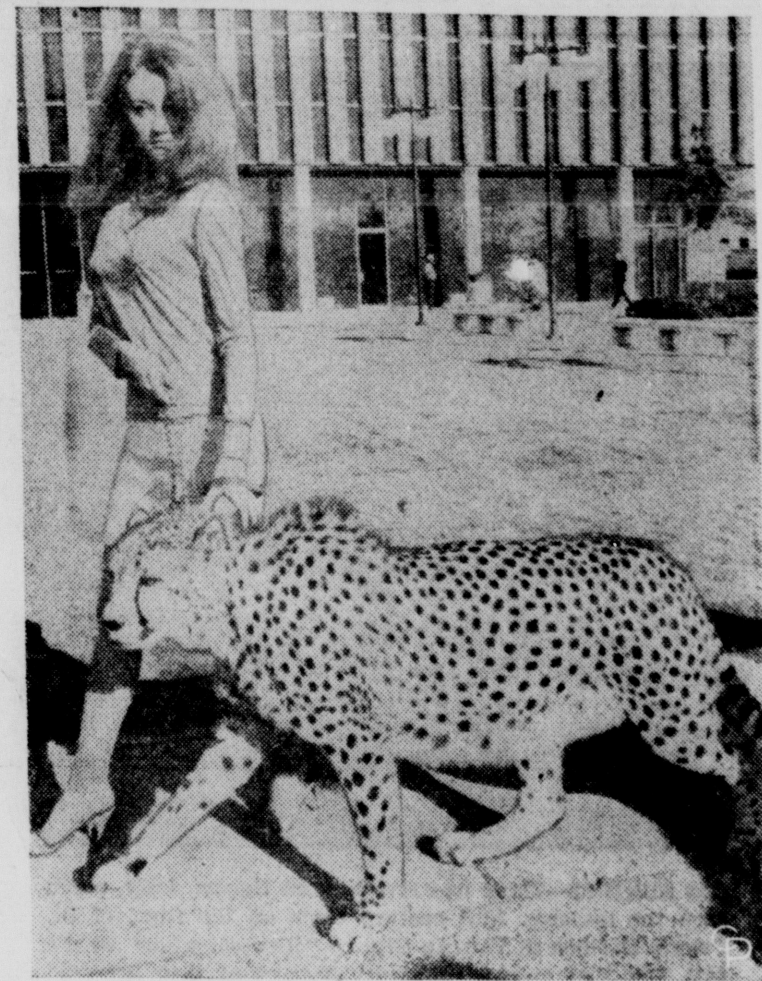

Defiance Industries Stockholders Vote

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Stockholders of Defiance Industries, Inc. are expected to vote today on the long-delayed question of merger into E-Tronics Inc. of Warren, Pa.

Victor Muscat, chairman and president of Defiance Industries, has indicated he will vote for the merger. Muscat owns 26.5 per cent of Defiance's stock.

Speakers Announced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Commentator Fulton Lewis III, former Ohio governor and senator John Bricker and Republican State Chairman John S. Andrews will be among the speakers at the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's fall conference here Oct. 24. The three men will address the banquet session Friday night, Oct. 3.

Fashion Designers Now Out With Furs For Children

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Fashion designers who last year wrapped Joe Namath in mink and sold men on furs are aiming at a new market. This year it's furs for children.

Until recently, women were the primary target of fur designers. Then men started sharing the market, urged on by football star Namath modeling his mink.

Now Jacques Kaplan, the off-beat fur designer, offers coats for children in Persian lamb, printed rabbit, Guanaco and toumaline mink. The coats range from $158 for the rabbit to $895 for the mink topper and are available for children 2 years and up.

Kaplan doesn't expect to sell many of the coats, a spokesman said, and he really doesn't approve of furs for children anyway, designing them primarily for publicity. The coats, said the spokesman, "are the sort of things that grandmothers would buy for their grandchildren."

Rabbit seems to be the most popular for children, because it is relatively inexpensive — an important factor when the coat is likely to be too small within a year — and because of its softness.

A New York department store — noted for its line-for-line copies of European fashions and its quick adoption of clothing fads — offers a selection of real rabbit coats in sizes 3 to 6 and 7 to 14 priced from $58 to $69.

Parisian designer Emmanuelle Ungaro created a white rabbit coat appliqued with flowers and

Other popular furs for the preteen set include lamb and Mongolian cat. Prices for the cat at one New York store are about $250.

In the Matter of Charles W. Trisler, an alleged delinquent child.

Said child is hereby cited to appear and Robert Trisler and Dorothy Landenburg, the parents of said child, and any other person having custody or control of said child, or with whom the same may be, to personally be and appear with said child, before the Judge of the Juvenile Court on the 3rd day of October A.D. 1969 at 10:00 o'clock A.M. at the Court House in said County in the matter of said child and this shall be in no wise void under penalty of the law. A person so cited, and failing to appear may be punished as in any other cases for contempt of Court.

The nature of the complaint in the case is as follows: that said child did on or about the 31st day of August, 1969, at the County of Pickaway, maliciously and forcibly break and enter Sharon's Market in the night season, and on or about the 1st day of September, 1969, at the County of Pickaway, maliciously and forcibly break and enter the Capital City Motorcycles Club Bldg. in the night season with intent to commit larceny, and did damage to the personal property of Victor Wolfe in the amount of $200.00.

In Testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 12th day of September, 1969.

Steve Penn, David Phillips, Garry Poling, Bryan Price, Dennis Ricketts, Kevin and Marc Rogols, Mark Rustin, Tommy Scherer, Mark Schiewetz, Matthew Stemm, Jan Thomas, David Uland, Scott Willoughby, Randy Wolfe and Jerry Yeatts.

The choir rehearses weekly at the St. Philips' parish hall and performs for various organizations in the city and country.

Pickaway Grange

PICKAWAY YOUTH GRANGE

The annual Pickaway County Grange Youth picnic was held Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Archer of near Ashville for grange members of four granges.

Following the meal, Keith Lands conducted the business meeting which included election of officers for the new grange year. Elected to serve during 1969-70 were: Keith Lands, president; Betty Bolender, vice president; Wilma Judy, treasurer; Barbara McKenzie, secretary; Sheryl Hines, chaplain; Darlene Collins, Joan Dawson and Judy Metzler, recreation committee.

Reports of the prince and princess pageant were given and members were solicited for the installation team which will begin installations Sept. 26.

The group unanimously received Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Archer as the newly appointed youth directors for the county. They are members of Nebraska Grange and are the parents of four children who are active in all facets of the youth work in Pickaway County. They replace Doyle Miller, who is a student at Ohio State University.

Life Says Thurmond, Pal Received High Land Price

NEW YORK (AP) — When Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and his partner sold land condemned for a South Carolina highway last year, they received more than twice the price of other landowners along the route, Life magazine says.

In its current issue, Life said Thurmond and his former law associate, now a federal judge, received $492 an acre for 66 acres, while others got an average of $200 an acre.

Thurmond issued a statement in Washington Sunday night, terming the article "just another in a series of attempted liberal smears."

He said, "The entire transaction is a matter of public record, as I knew it would be from the beginning."

Life said it interviewed Thurmond, who said he thought the land was worth more than $750 an acre, but that he and his partner, U.S. District Judge

Cares E. Simons Jr., accepted less to avoid going to court "because of the positions we held with the public."

The magazine said the 66 acres was part of a 3,000-acre tract of scrub timber land that Thurmond and Simons bought in 1953 for about $14.53 an acre.

Simons said Sunday, in Aiken, S.C., "We received no more than a fair price for the land—there is no question about that. I don't know what the other landowners got."

Thurmond, in his statement added, "I did not and will not surrender my right as a citizen to own property and to ask for a jury decision on its true value if the government condemns it."

Officials in the South Carolina Highway Department declined comment. Chief Highway Commissioner S. N. Pearman was out of town.

Nelsonville Boy Dies Of Injuries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Injuries received in a high school football game Sept. 6 claimed the life Sunday of Bruce Evans, 17, of Nelsonville.

Evans was injured in the game between Nelsonville-York and Warren Local high schools and had been in critical condition at University Hospital since. The hospital would not give the actual cause of death pending a coroner's ruling.

Girl Adviser To California School Board Has No Vote

By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer
ALMO, Calif. (AP) — Barbara Marshment, the 16-year-old appointed this month to the California State Board of Education, is a straight-A student who frowns on campus disorder. Barbara was selected by a screening committee of students on the California Association of Students Councils to be the first student advisory member on the California board. She will have no vote.

Warren, Wife Tour Around The World

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Earl Warren, former chief justice of the United States, and his wife, who are on a world tour, have stopped over in the Lebanese capital so that Mrs. Warren could see some shopping. Warren told an interviewer for the Daily Star he was trying "to keep entirely away from politics and public questions for a good long time."

brothers and sisters wash the dishes, spends an hour every day practicing the piano, likes novels such as "Gone With the Wind" and makes about half of her own clothing. She attends a Catholic girls' school and hasn't had any first-hand contact with student activists but she generally doesn't approve of their methods.

"Personally I believe more in positive action rather than violence or destruction," Barbara said in an interview.

"There are a lot of aspects to education. Involvement in activities is important. But it's not the only thing. Learning in the classroom is important too."

Barbara, a guitarist and a former pom-pom girl, is president of the junior class at Carondelet School in Concord, near Alamo. Both towns are Oakland suburbs.

Although she wears a uniform to school—blue and white pleated skirt, white blouse, blue blazer and saddle shoes—Barbara doesn't think public schools should have strict dress code.

However, school authorities must have the final say, she said.

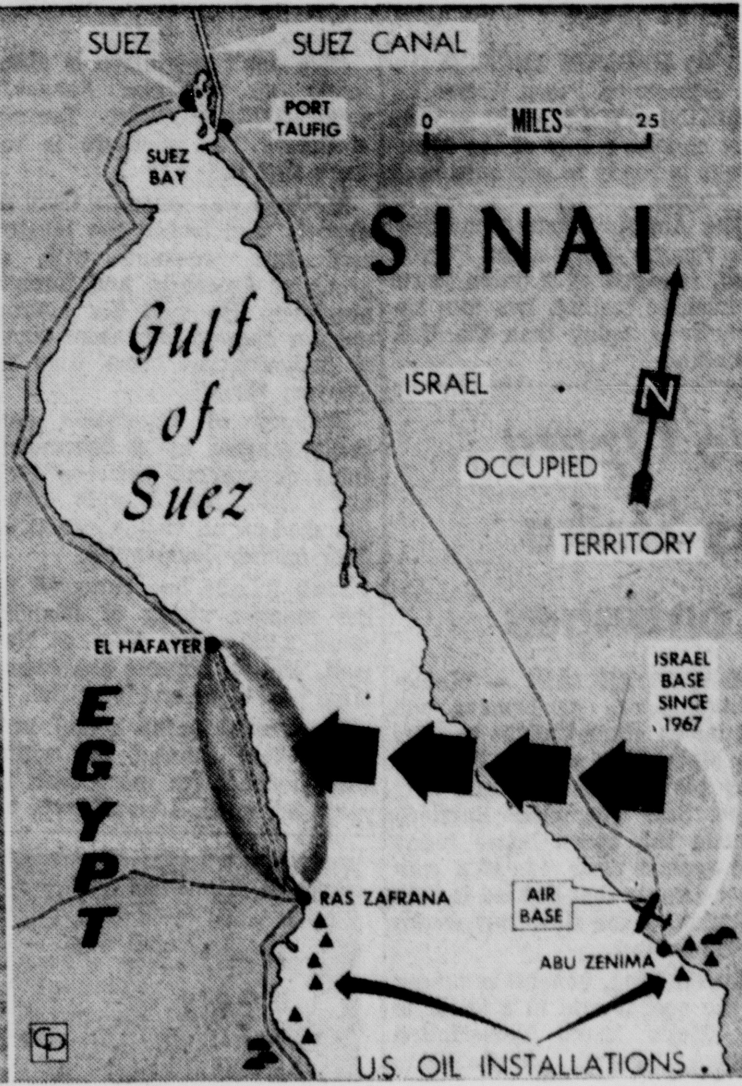

Barbara started dating a year ago, but only occasionally. She has no regular boy. Saturday night she is likely to be home baking brownies and watching television.

Being selected for the board of education is the "most exciting thing ever" for Barbara, and she considers it a great honor for her school.

Wildcat Strikes Plague West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany, in the midst of a national election campaign, has been rocked by two weeks of unusual wildcat strikes involving more than 500,000 miners and steelworkers.

Wage increases are ending the strikes, but they have unsettled politicians and raised the specter of wage-price spirals and inflation in a country that has become the most stable economic power in Western Europe.

Strikes of any kind are rare in West Germany, where a docile, fully employed work force has been content to follow the lead of its unions. In 1968, only 25,249 work days were lost to strikes in a work force of more than 24 million.

Wildcat strikes, called "wild strikes" by the Germans, are rarer still. Until this summer the last major one was in May 1967 at a cookie factory in a dispute about laying off workers.

Such union officials as Heinz-Oskar Vetter of the German Federation of Trade Unions are issuing assurances that the "English situation" of repeated wildcat strikes won't become common in West Germany. But the success of the miners and steel workers in getting higher pay has triggered demands by 2 million civil servants, leather, textile and transport workers for prompt negotiation of new contracts.

Politicians and others are debating the root causes of the spreading discontent. Some think union members are growing dissatisfied with their leaders. Others consider the unrest part of the radical movement manifested previously in student protests and left-wing demonstrations.

The strikers denied any Communist influence. They said they had agreed to a wage freeze in 1967 to help the country out of an economic slump, and now it was time they got some benefits.

The workers' demands are well timed. The companies are prospering. There are labor shortages in several key industries. And with election day only two weeks away, there is an inclination to settle quickly.

Spokesmen for the coal and steel industries are saying prices must be increased to cover the cost of wage increases. Under new contracts, 256,000 Ruhr and Saar coal miners will get 14 per cent hikes and 230,000 iron and steel workers will get 11 per cent raises.

The labor unions point to record steel profits and sales to argue that no price increase is justified. Vetter said any price increases "could only come out of maliciousness."

The strikes have become a campaign issue. Foreign Minister Willy Brandt's Social Democrats, a party with strong labor ties, claims that Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger has refused to take the proper steps to halt price increases.

According to John Eshelman, Vice President, marketing, these meetings were held to relate Red Rose feeds to farmers' needs. "So often," said Eshelman, "we become so involved with our own problems that we tend to forget the needs of our customers."

The Circleville meeting was conducted by Ed Nelson under the direction of D. H. Carpenter, Red Rose vice president.

In Lancaster the meeting was conducted by James Geary, Eastern regional sales manager. All of the company's salesmen, research managers and key production personnel from the 21 states and 37 foreign countries served by the Eshelman company attended these three-day sessions.

Herbert Eshelman, president of the firm, was in attendance at both meetings.

G&H Heifer Tops Sale At Louisville

A polled Charolais heifer with the unlikely name of GH62 topped the Ohio Valley Charolais Assn. sale Saturday at Louisville, Ky.

The animal was consigned by G & H Research Farms, Route 4 and was purchased for $5,600 by James Beasley, Athens, Alabama.

It was a record for the sale, beating the previous record of $5,000. Norman Godden, manager of the local Charolais farm, said the heifer was bred to Fuyard 500, his herd sire.

She was the first place female in the show that preceded the sale.

The Ohio Valley Charolais Assn. includes herds from Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Buyers from 20 states were on hand to purchase the 67 head that were sold.

Godden reported that G & H farms have sold four head at auction this year for an average of $4,885.

Arrested with him in Sunday's robbery and similarly charged was Leroy Workman, 18, of Buffalo, who, police said, pushed Meruked's wheelchair from the store.

Girl Adviser To California School Board Has No Vote

By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer
ALMO, Calif. (AP) — Barbara Marshment, the 16-year-old appointed this month to the California State Board of Education, is a straight-A student who frowns on campus disorder. Barbara was selected by a screening committee of students on the California Association of Students Councils to be the first student advisory member on the California board. She will have no vote.

Warren, Wife Tour Around The World

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Earl Warren, former chief justice of the United States, and his wife, who are on a world tour, have stopped over in the Lebanese capital so that Mrs. Warren could do some shopping. Warren told an interviewer for the Daily Star he was trying "to keep entirely away from politics and public questions for a good long time."

brothers and sisters wash the dishes, spends an hour every day practicing the piano, likes novels such as "Gone With the Wind" and makes about half of her own clothing. She attends a Catholic girls' school and hasn't had any first-hand contact with student activists but she generally doesn't approve of their methods. "Personally I believe more in positive action rather than violence or destruction," Barbara said in an interview. "There are a lot of aspects to education. Involvement in activities is important. But it's not the only thing. Learning in the classroom is important too."

Barbara, a guitarist and a former pom-pom girl, is president of the junior class at Carondelet School in Concord, near Alamo. Both towns are Oakland suburbs. Although she wears a uniform to school—blue and white pleated skirt, white blouse, blue blazer and saddle shoes—Barbara doesn't think public schools should have strict dress code.

However, school authorities must have the final say, she said.

Barbara started dating a year ago, but only occasionally. She has no regular boy. Saturday night she is likely to be home baking brownies and watching television.

Being selected for the board of education is the "most exciting thing ever" for Barbara, and she considers it a great honor for her school.

Wildcat Strikes Plague West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany, in the midst of a national election campaign, has been rocked by two weeks of unusual wildcat strikes involving more than 500,000 miners and steelworkers.

Wage increases are ending the strikes, but they have unsettled politicians and raised the specter of wage-price spirals and inflation in a country that has become the most stable economic power in Western Europe.

Strikes of any kind are rare in West Germany, where a docile, fully employed work force has been content to follow the lead of its unions. In 1968, only 25,249 work days were lost to strikes in a work force of more than 24 million.

Wildcat strikes, called "wild strikes" by the Germans, are rarer still. Until this summer the last major one was in May 1967 at a cookie factory in a dispute about laying off workers. Such union officials as Heinz-Oskar Vetter of the German Federation of Trade Unions are issuing assurances that the "English situation" of repeated wildcat strikes won't become common in West Germany. But the success of the miners and steel workers in getting higher pay has triggered demands by 2 million civil servants, leather, textile and transport workers for prompt negotiation of new contracts. Politicians and others are debating the root causes of the spreading discontent. Some

Ohio Air Force Sergeant Is Killed

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — A recently married Air Force sergeant from Cleveland, Ohio, burned to death Saturday in a two-car crash at the Reading-Lancaster interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The victim was Claude DiGirolamo, 21, who re-enlisted for a second four-year tour in the Air Force two months ago, about the same time he was married, Air Force spokesmen said.

think union members are growing dissatisfied with their leaders. Others consider the unrest part of the radical movement manifested previously in student protests and left-wing demonstrations.

The strikers denied any Communist influence. They said they had agreed to a wage freeze in 1967 to help the country out of an economic slump, and now it was time they got some benefits.

The workers' demands are well timed. The companies are prospering. There are labor shortages in several key industries. And with election day only two weeks away, there is an inclination to settle quickly.

Spokesmen for the coal and steel industries are saying prices must be increased to cover the cost of wage increases. Under new contracts, 256,000 Ruhr and Saar coal miners will get 14 per cent hikes and 230,000 iron and steel workers will get 11 per cent raises.

The labor unions point to record steel profits and sales to argue that no price increase is justified. Vetter said any price increases "could only come out of maliciousness."

The strikes have become a campaign issue. Foreign Minister Willy Brandt's Social Democrats, a party with strong labor ties, claims that Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger has refused to take the proper steps to halt price increases.

John W. Eshelman & Sons, Lancaster, Pa., has recently completed two regional meetings in Lancaster, Pa. and Circleville.

According to John Eshelman, Vice President, marketing, these meetings were held to relate Red Rose feeds to farmers needs. "So often," said Eshelman, "we become so involved with our own problems that we tend to forget the needs of our customers."

The Circleville meeting was conducted by Ed Nelson under the direction of D. H. Carpenter, Red Rose vice president.

In Lancaster the meeting was conducted by James Geary, Eastern regional sales manager. All of the company's salesmen, research managers and key production personnel from the 21 states and 37 foreign countries served by the Eshelman company attended these three-day sessions. Herbert Eshelman, president of the firm, was in attendance at both meetings.

Allott Says He Won't Seek GOP Senate Leader's Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado stepped aside from the race for Republican leadership today, leaving the field to the three declared candidates to succeed the late Everett M. Dirksen.

"I am not a candidate for the position of minority leader," Allott said. "I have no commitments from any of my colleagues, nor have I asked for such commitments."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the acting leader; Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska; and Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee are candidates.

Allott said he would not make any personal commitment in the leadership race, but his decision not to run benefits Hruska, whose support is based among the Senate's more conservative Republicans.

Baker is campaigning as a

Republican who can attract support from both the left and the right.

But the American Conservative Union, urging the election of a conservative leader, put both Baker and Hruska in that category.

Allott told some Senate colleagues last Thursday that he would run for the leader's post. But Hruska announced his candidacy Saturday, and it was clear they would have had to seek support from the same, generally conservative, Senate constituency.

"My sole personal efforts shall be directed toward assuring that whatever the outcome of the race, we shall have a unified party in the Senate," Allott said in his statement disclaiming candidacy.

Scott, 68, and Hruska, 65, are the veterans; Baker, 43, and midway through his first Senate term, is the newcomer.

Scott said his interest is not in misleading ideological labels but in effective Republican action. Hruska called himself "a representative of the broad middle ground," and stressed loyalty to President Nixon.

Baker said he is liberal on some issues, conservative on others, and can attract support from all segments of the party.

While his senior rivals stressed their experience, Baker, Dirksen's son-in-law, said he could offer the party a new face and reinforce the youth image within the GOP.

The job they seek pays $49,500 a year, offers an ornate office off the Senate floor and a black limousine.

The office of minority leader is not necessarily one of power, that depends on the man who holds it. Dirksen, who died Sept. 7, was a powerful figure in that position.

Islanders To Move Back To Bikini Atoll

By GEORGE ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer
BIKINI ATOLL (AP) — The first no-man's land of the atomic age is ready to welcome back its people.

The Atomic Energy Commission reports this isolated Pacific atoll, ravaged by a dozen years of nuclear testing, has less radioactivity today than the U.S. mainland.

No Opera As Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Metropolitan Opera performers will not be on stage tonight to open the Met's 85th season. Instead, they planned to play and sing "The Star Spangled Banner" outside the opera house today and explain their side of a contract dispute that has led to cancellation of the first four weeks of the season.

Rudolf Bing, general manager of the opera, said in a letter to the Met's 22,000 subscription holders, "Terms acceptable to the unions on paper are meaningless unless the Metropolitan can afford to pay them and continue in operation."

A settlement will mean "inevitable ticket price increases," Bing said. The Met had a $3.5 million deficit last season, when tickets ranged in price from $25 for a box to $1.50 for standing room.

Bing said the Met's latest offer would provide average earnings of $14,000 for the chorus, up from $10,000; $10,000 for the ballet, up from $6,500 and $20,000 for the orchestra, up from $16,200.

The Metropolitan Opera Association would do its best to salvage the remainder of the 31-week season, Bing promised subscribers. He said the Met had guaranteed some star performers fees for the first two months of the season.

"However important our orchestra, chorus and ballet may be, without well-known leading artists there could be no season. Our subscribers have a right to expect the greatest singers the world has to offer."

So far negotiations have proved "fruitless," Bing said, and even if a settlement were reached in the next few days, weeks of rehearsals stand between the opera company and opening night.

Dental President Raps Government Program Funding

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Nixon administration's budget of $30.4 million for dental research, although more than 1968, was criticized as not enough Sunday by the chief of the American Dental Association here.

Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Chicago, told the opening of the convention of the Ohio Dental Association that although there was slightly more money in 1969, it would provide far less grant projects, fellowships and training grants.

In addition, he said the administration was cutting the research budget by $700,000 in fiscal 1970.

"The curtailment of federal funds for dental research presents a serious and critical problem not only to dental education but to the entire nation," Dr. Hillenbrand said.

"We can't say there is absolutely no radiation danger," says AEC physicist Tommy McCraw, "but if there is we can't find it."

FORECASTS

NORTHWEST & NORTH-EAST OHIO—Mostly sunny and warm today but chance of thundershowers close to Lake Erie. High today in the low to mid 80s. Partly cloudy and mild to night, low in the upper 50s and low 60s. Partly cloudy and warm Tuesday with a chance of thundershowers high in the 80s. Wednesday, turning cooler with a chance of thundershowers.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST, CENTRAL & EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Mostly sunny and warm today, high in the mid 80s. Fair and mild tonight, low near 60. Partly cloudy and warm Tuesday with a chance of thundershowers, high in the 80s. Turning cooler with a chance of thundershowers.

eager to return.

The displaced Bikinians have been eking out a living on the tiny island of Kili, in the southern Marshalls.

Although rich in rainfall, Kili has no lagoon or sheltered sea approach. The islanders have been earning about $20,000 annually through the sale of copra and ladies' handbags made of coconut fiber.

Thirty Bikinians will arrive here next month to help plant coconuts, breadfruit and pandanus, making ready for the return of the others.

McCraw, 41, of Germantown, Md., said considerable testing has been conducted to determine the extent of lingering radioactivity.

"There is virtually no radiation left," he said, "and we can find no discernible effect on either plant or animal life."

McCraw used an atomic counter to sample radioactivity on the island of Aikurikuru, across the channel from Enyu in the atoll's southern complex where 13 nuclear shots were fired from barges and air drops.

It registered slightly below two microroentgens.

"An average reading on the U.S. mainland," he said, "would range from 10 to 20 microroentgens."

McCraw said the reason for the low reading is that Bikini Atoll rose from living coral reefs and has little naturally occurring radioactivity.

Responsibility for restoring and resettling Bikini Atoll is shared by the Department of Defense, the AEC and the Interior Department.

The cleanup began Feb. 17 under the direction of the Defense Atomic Support Agency.

Allott Says He Won't Seek GOP Senate Leader's Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado stepped aside from the race for Republican leadership today, leaving the field to the three declared candidates to succeed the late Everett M. Dirksen.

"I am not a candidate for the position of minority leader," Allott said. "I have no commitments from any of my colleagues, nor have I asked for such commitments."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the acting leader; Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska; and Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee are candidates.

Allott said he would not make any personal commitment in the leadership race, but his decision not to run benefits Hruska, whose support is based among the Senate's more conservative Republicans.

Baker is campaigning as a

Republican who can attract support from both the left and the right.

But the American Conservative Union, urging the election of a conservative leader, put both Baker and Hruska in that category.

Allott told some Senate colleagues last Thursday that he would run for the leader's post. But Hruska announced his candidacy Saturday, and it was clear they would have had to seek support from the same, generally conservative, Senate constituency.

"My sole personal efforts shall be directed toward assuring that whatever the outcome of the race, we shall have a unified party in the Senate," Allott said in his statement disclaiming candidacy.

Scott, 68, and Hruska, 65, are the veterans; Baker, 43, and midway through his first Senate term, is the newcomer.

Scott said his interest is not in misleading ideological labels but in effective Republican action. Hruska called himself "a representative of the broad middle ground," and stressed loyalty to President Nixon.

Distribution of gas tax revenues to Pickaway County in the first nine months of 1969 total $19,644 according to State Auditor Roger Cloud.

$7,344 was distributed to Circleville, $1,583 to Ashville, $139 to Commercial Point and $22 to Darbyville.

Harrisburg received $25 in gas tax revenues, New Holland, $433; Orient, $294; South Bloomfield, $150; Tarlton, $191, and Williamsport, $473.

All of these revenues are restricted for the construction, maintenance and repair of streets and highways.

Islanders To Move Back To Bikini Atoll

By GEORGE ZUCKER

The Atomic Energy Commission reports this isolated Pacific atoll, ravaged by a dozen years of nuclear testing, has less radioactivity today than the U.S. mainland.

No Opera As Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Metropolitan Opera performers will not be on stage tonight to open the Met's 85th season. Instead, they planned to play and sing "The Star Spangled Banner" outside the opera house today and explain their side of a contract dispute that has led to cancellation of the first four weeks of the season.

Rudolf Bing, general manager of the opera, said in a letter to the Met's 22,000 subscription holders, "Terms acceptable to the unions on paper are meaningless unless the Metropolitan can afford to pay them and continue in operation."

A settlement will mean "inevitable ticket price increases," Bing said. The Met had a $3.5 million deficit last season, when tickets ranged in price from $25 for a box to $1.50 for standing room.

Bing said the Met's latest offer would provide average earnings of $14,000 for the chorus, up from $10,000; $10,000 for the ballet, up from $6,500 and $20,000 for the orchestra, up from $16,200.

The Metropolitan Opera Association would do its best to salvage the remainder of the 31-week season, Bing promised subscribers. He said the Met had guaranteed some star performers fees for the first two months of the season.

Cincinnati Bengals Top Miami, 27-21

By HAL PARIS
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Paul Brown says his Cincinnati Bengals don't have the killer instinct.

Cincy Bengal Player Frank Buncom Dies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank James Buncom III was presented with a game ball today by his dad's best friend, Ernie Wright, from a game in which his dad never played.

The one-year-old would never see his father play. Frank J. Buncom, Cincinnati Bengals linebacker, died in a downtown hotel room, the victim of a blood clot, Sunday morning.

Wright, his roommate, was with him but could do nothing. "Frank woke me up with his belated breathing," Wright recalled after the game in which the Bengals dumped the Miami Dolphins 27-21 in an American Football League opener.

"He was breathing like he had an asthmatic attack or something."

"I called to him. Then went over to his bed and shook him — real good. I got no response. I checked his mouth to make sure he wasn't having a convulsion and swallowing his tongue. Then I called for help. There was nothing I could do."

stinct but they're tough enough to nail down a victory.

"We wobbled around getting it, but we made it," Brown said with a sigh of relief Sunday after his Bengals hung on for a 27-21 triumph over Miami in the American Football League inaugural for both clubs.

Slick Bob Griese, the former Purdue flash, was driving Miami toward the Bengals' goal-line when time ran out.

"I'm glad to get this one under our belt," Brown said about his milestone victory, the 300th in his illustrious coaching career spanning 35 years.

Someone asked the 61-year-old coach if he could remember his first triumph.

"You only remember the ones you lose—but I'll never forget this one."

Neither will the 25,333 fans who crammed into Nippert Stadium to watch hometown product Greg Cook make his debut as a Bengal quarterback.

The former University of Cincinnati star, playing in the stadium where he set several NCAA records, lived up to his billing with two touchdown strikes.

He connected with wide receiver Eric Crabtree on second quarter touchdown passes of 69 and 25 yards that opened up a 21-7 bulge over the Dolphins.

The Bengals scored first when rookie linebacker Bill Bergey picked off an errant Griese toss and rambled 56 yards to the Miami 22.

Namath, Simpson Show Stuff In AFL Opener

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

They turned out in record numbers—46,165—at Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium Sunday to see Joe Namath's arm and O. J. Simpson's legs. The anatomy left something to be desired, but no one was demanding his money back.

New York's Namath, the pride of Broadway, passed for one touchdown and Buffalo's Simpson ran for one in his pro debut as the world champion Jets turned back the stubborn Bills 33-19 in their American Football League opener.

Elsewhere in the AFL, Oakland held off Houston 21-17, Kansas City trounced San Diego 27-9, Denver walloped Boston 35-7 and Cincinnati topped Miami 27-21.

The National Football League, which doesn't open its regular season for another week, finished its pre-season schedule with five games. On Sunday, Baltimore beat Dallas 23-7 and Philadelphia surprised Washington 26-17. Saturday, it was Green Bay 38, Atlanta 24; Minnesota 23, Cleveland 16 and Los Angeles 31, San Francisco 28.

Namath's statistics showed only seven completions in 19 attempts—he was intercepted three times—for 157 yards. Simpson, the rich rookie from Southern Cal, carried 10 times for 35 yards, caught two passes for 64 and returned three kick-offs for 68. His touchdown came on an eight-yard run.

"Make up anything you want to about O.J. and write it," Namath said. "I can't say enough good things about him. He's going to be great."

"I wasn't satisfied," Simpson countered. "I picked up a cold Saturday and it bothered me early in the game. And, I'll tell you, now that they're playing for real it's a lot harder."

After Namath's 60-yard scoring pass to Don Maynard and Jim Turner's four field goals

That snapped a string of 99 straight passes Griese had thrown without an interception.

Five plays later, Paul Robinson crashed over from the four but the Bengals' 7-0 lead lasted only 17 seconds.

Mercury Morris, a fleet-footed back from West Texas State, took the ensuing kickoff and sped untouched 105 yards for the equalizer.

Cook, who looked good in his initial start, then fired his touchdown passes, the second set up by Fletcher Smith's 29-yard run with another intercepted pass.

"Cook is a remarkable young man," Brown said. "Wait until you see him in about four or five years."

Wilhelm, Braves Edge Past Houston, 3-2

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When, 25 years or so from now, they finally write Hoyt Wilhelm's pitching epilogue, they can call it The Old Man And The Knuckleball.

Wilhelm, who makes a baseball do tricks by digging his carefully-filed nails into its seams, came to Atlanta last week and in three appearances with the pennant-conscious Braves, he has one victory and two saves.

The victory for the 46-year-old reliever who is in his 18th major league season, came Sunday when Rico Carty rifled a pair of home runs that gave the Braves a 3-2 triumph over Houston.

It was the sixth straight victory for Atlanta and left the Braves 1½ games in front of both Los Angeles and San Francisco in the sizzling National League West race.

The Dodgers and Giants both kept pace with the front-running Braves, who haven't lost since acquiring Wilhelm on waivers from California. Los Angeles knocked off San Diego 3-1 and San Francisco took Cincinnati 5-3.

New York retained its 3½-game lead in the East Division. The Mets lost to Pittsburgh 5-3 but lost no ground to Chicago, which dropped a 2-1 decision to St. Louis in 10 innings. Montreal ripped Philadelphia 7-2 in the other NL game Sunday.

Paul Richards, the Braves' vice president who picked up Wilhelm from the Angels, marveled at the old pitcher.

"Lee MacPhail (general manager of the New York Yankees) said Wilhelm would pitch until he's 50 and it looks like he will," said Richards.

With only four years to go, Wilhelm seems a cinch to make it. He's allowed just two hits in 4 2-3 innings in three appearances for the Braves. He was 5-7 with California.

Carty hit his 13th and 14th homer of the season—the second one a two-run shot with two out in the eighth that erased a 2-1 Houston lead.

It was the fourth straight loss for Houston and dropped the As-

UCLA Smashes Pittsburgh 37-0, In College Grid Tilt

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Dee Andros returned home last winter from a trip East where he was offered the coaching job at the University of Pittsburgh, he was greeted by a crowd of Oregon State students chanting, "Please don't leave! Please don't leave!"

Andros didn't, but he may be wishing today that he had.

The reason for Andros' discomfort is a 37-0 shellacking imposed on the Beavers Saturday night by UCLA, the nation's 17th-ranked team and the only member of The Associated Press' Top Twenty to see action as college football began its 100th anniversary with a smattering of games.

The results of a dozen major games indicate that 1969 may be just as wild as 1968, when all sorts of offensive records fell, and a far cry from the first college game back in 1869 when Rutgers beat Princeton by a mere 6-4.

In a nationally televised contest, the Air Force and Southern Methodist filled the air with 69 passes before the fly-bobs made off with a 26-22 cliff-hanger.

The biggest score was run up by West Virginia, which clobbered Cincinnati 57-11 and ruined Ray Callahan's debut as coach of the Bearcats. Callahan shouldn't have been too surprised, though. Three of Cincy's four losses a year ago were by scores of 55-34, 69-48 and 71-33.

Another new coach, Cal Stoll of Wake Forest, directed the first upset of the season. The O'neen Beavers scored with five seconds left and then connected on a two-point conversion pass to nip North Carolina State 22-21.

Elsewhere, it was Villanova

West Virginia Rips Cincy Bearcats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Ohio college football teams have any one thing to be thankful for the rest of this season, it probably will be that none of them has to face West Virginia.

The rugged Mountaineers crushed the University of Cincinnati Saturday 57-11 in the first weekend of Ohio collegiate football.

Lop-sided scores dotted the six-game weekend. Miami trounced Xavier 35-7, Akron shut out Butler of Indiana 52-0 and Defiance handed Hope, Mich., a 40-7 loss. Kent State came from behind to turn back Dayton 24-14 and Alma of Michigan trounced Bluffton 36-8.

Cincinnati, which lost star quarterback Greg Cook through graduation and could look to injured split end Jim O'Brien, last season's national collegiate scoring champion, only for kicking, was down 27-0 at the half.

O'Brien scored first for the Bearcats early in the second half with a 48-yard field goal—a Cincinnati record. It was the 15th consecutive game in which O'Brien has scored.

The field goal and quarterback Jim Owsley's 56-yard touchdown pass to split end Rod Warren were about the only chances the Bearcats had to break away from the tough West Virginia defense. The Mountaineers rolled up 523 offensive yards to Cincinnati's 107.

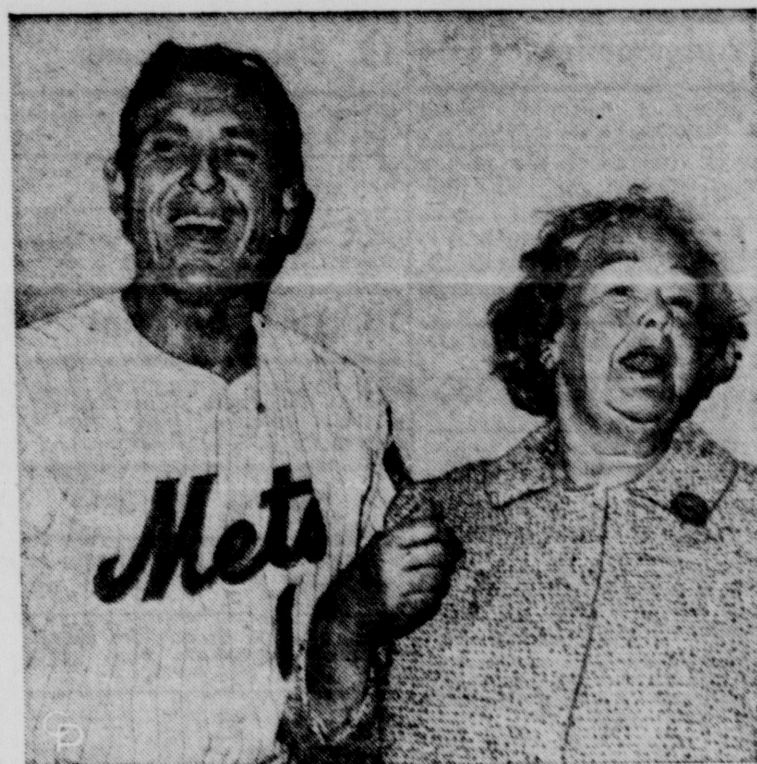

Driver Billy Haughton started his career at upper New York state fairs. His career purse earnings exceed $13 million.

Kathy Whitworth

Wins Tournament

OCEAN SHORES, Wash. (AP) —The experience gained in 11 years as a professional golfer helped Kathy Whitworth fight off a bad case of the double bogies Sunday and rally to win the $22,000 Wendell-West Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Tall Kathy finished the day with a par-72 and a 54-hole total of 213 to edge Judy Torluemke Rankin by a stroke.

SMILES COME FIRST FOR THEM—When the Mets took first in the East division of the National League for the first time this year the team's leaders took to the happy posing stage. Gil Hodges, the manager, is at the left, and Mrs. Joan Payson, the club owner, at right.

Reds' Hopes Fade

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The pennant hopes of the Cincinnati Reds took a nose-dive Sunday when they dropped a 5-3 contest to the Giants and fell to fourth place in the National League Western Division.

The Reds trail the division leading Atlanta Braves by two games and are even in the loss column.

They arrive in Los Angeles today for a night game and Tony Cloninger (9-16) will make his third straight attempt to win his 100th career game.

Claude Osteen (19-12) will be on the hill for Los Angeles. The Dodgers and Giants are each one and a half games out of first but the Giants are one percentage point up.

The Reds are two games out and Houston now is five and a half down.

Sunday's disappointing performance in which starter Jim

Merritt suffered his eighth beating against 16 wins saw a rare incident, an umpire changing a decision.

Alex Johnson hit a soft line to go ahead 3-2 in the fifth but Francisco left fielder Ken Henderson dived to catch it.

Umpire Lee Weyer signaled Johnson out although Henderson reached back over his head for the ball, got it and held it up.

The Reds bullpen charged onto the field to argue that they'd seen the ball come loose.

The Giants left the field after the called third out. Third base umpire Harry Wendelstadt said Henderson had dropped the ball and the Giants came storming out of their dugout.

Johnson was awarded first base after a prolonged argument but it meant little for the Reds. Tony Perez, next up, struck out.

The Reds scored three runs to go ahead 3-2 in the fifth but the Giants came back with one each in the sixth, seventh and eighth to win.

Willy Mays tie breaking single with two out in the seventh with pinch hitter Bobby Ethridge on third after two sacrifice bunts took it for the Giants.

Early Leaders Jinxed At Atomic Oval

Erwin, Grace Win Championships In Saturday's Card

Early leaders in both classifications were jinxed as Sam Erwin of Portsmouth won the wreck shortened super-modified feature for his fifth time and Bob Crace picked up his initial hobby stocks main event of the year in the season championships at Atomic Speedway Saturday night.

Starting the 50-lap feature midway back in the pack, Erwin powered into the lead on the 14th lap and took home the season's trophy when the race was cut off after the 47th lap.

George Harbour of Huntington, W. Va., was second, Audie Swartz of near Portsmouth third and Guy Keegan of Green Springs fourth.

Lee Dusty of Columbus led for the first seven laps and Joe Frazier of Chillicothe for the next six. Dusty had to surrender second place to Erwin immediately after Frazier took over and both of the early leaders had costly problems just after the midway point.

Driving for Ralph Coil of Washington Court House, Junior Smalley left the track on the 48th lap near the place where he had torn up No. 13 the previous week.

Roger Boldman of Portsmouth and Don Stump of Circleville were the leaders in the 35-lap hobby stocks feature until having mechanical problems.

Crace had no trouble in getting by Stump on the restart of the 29th lap to lead John Adams and Paul Conley across the finish line.

Bob Morgan of Chillicothe posted the fast time of the night of 15:10 — his eighth time for the season — and came from the rear to win the helmet dash for the four fastest cars. Roy Singleton of Manchester and Jim Meeker of Chillicothe were the heat winners and Keegan took the consi.

In the hobby stocks Boldman and Conley were the heat winners and the consi went to George Branscom of Chillicothe.

Butch Gearheart Wins Bowling Tilt

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Shut out of the winner's circle for the past two years, Butch Gearheart of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, came to life in the final eight games of play Sunday to win the Professional Bowler's Association Newark Kiwanis Open.

Gearhart, who last won at Oklahoma City in 1967, had not finished higher than third place this year.

To win the $32,000 Newark Open, Gearhart won 11 of 16 games of match play and successfully fended off challenges from early leaders Johnny Petraglia of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Dick Weber of St. Louis.

Gearhart finished with a 40-game winning total of 9,237 pins for an average of 217 for the sixteen games.

Orioles Defeat Cleveland, 7-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Sudden Sam McDowell throws a fit, the sky's the limit.

The Cleveland pitching ace tried to heave a baseball out of Baltimore's Municipal Stadium following his ejection from Sunday's game against the American League's newly-crowned East Division kings.

He missed the mark by a couple of feet ... and the Indians had less success against the high-flying Orioles, who stretched their winning streak to eight games with a 7-3 conquest.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, dealt Oakland's West Division title hopes a double wallop with a 12-8, 9-8 sweep over the fading Athletics.

First place Minnesota, although beaten by Kansas City 4-3, moved eight lengths ahead of the A's. The Twins' magic number for nailing the division crown is 10.

Elsewhere, Detroit topped Washington 7-4 in 12 innings; California trimmed Seattle 4-2 and the New York Yankees nipped Boston 3-2.

McDowell was given the heave-ho by Plate Umpire Larry Barnett in the sixth inning at Baltimore, climaxing a running feud over ball-strike calls. The Indians' 16-game winner exploded after Baltimore broke a 3-3 tie on a walk, Chico Salmon's single and an error by rookie left fielder Frank Baker.

Teammates restrained McDowell during a heated argument. Indians Manager Alvin Dark also was ejected. Then, on his way to the dugout, McDowell fired the ball toward the 109-foot high stadium roof. It landed four rows from the top in the upper deck.

The Orioles, who clinched the East Division championship Saturday, rested five regulars. Left-hander Mike Cuellar survived nine Cleveland hits to become the third 22-game winner in the majors, joining Detroit's Denny McLain and the Mets' Tom Seaver.

Tom McCraw's upper-deck home run in the ninth inning broke an 8-8 knot at Chicago, completing the White Sox' sweep over the A's. Larry Haney had lifted Oakland into a tie with an eighth inning homer.

Bobby Knoop delivered four Chicago runs with a single and triple.

Cincy Bengal Player Frank Buncom Dies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank James Buncom III was presented with a game ball today by his dad's best friend, Ernie Wright, from a game in which his dad never played.

The one-year-old would never see his father play. Frank J. Buncom, Cincinnati Bengals linebacker, died in a downtown hotel room, the victim of a blood clot, Sunday morning.

Wright, his roommate, was with him but could do nothing. "Frank woke me up with his belabored breathing," Wright recalled after the game in which the Bengals dumped the Miami Dolphins 27-21 in an American Football League opener.

"He was breathing like he had an asthmatic attack or something."

"I called to him. Then went over to his bed and shook him -- real good. I got no response. I checked his mouth to make sure he wasn't having a convulsion and saw a white tongue. Then I called for help. There was nothing I could do."

Namath, Simpson Show Stuff In AFL Opener

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They turned out in record numbers—46,165—at Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium Sunday to see Joe Namath's arm and O. J. Simpson's legs. The anatomy left something to be desired, but no one was demanding his money back.

New York's Namath, the pride of Broadway, passed for one touchdown and Buffalo's Simpson ran for one in his debut as the world champion Jets turned back the stubborn Bills 33-19 in their American Football League opener.

Elsewhere in the AFL, Oakland held off Houston 21-17, Kansas City trounced San Diego 27-9, Denver walloped Boston 35-7 and Cincinnati topped Miami 27-21.

The National Football League, which doesn't open its regular season for another week, finished its pre-season schedule with five games. On Sunday, Baltimore beat Dallas 23-7 and stinct but they're tough enough to nail down a victory.

"We wobbled around getting it, but we made it," Brown said with a sigh of relief Sunday after his Bengals hung on for a 27-21 triumph over Miami in the American Football League inaugural for both clubs.

Slick Bob Griese, the former Purdue flash, was driving Miami toward the Bengals' goal-line when time ran out.

"I'm glad to get this one under our belt," Brown said about his milestone victory, the 300th in his illustrious coaching career spanning 35 years.

Someone asked the 61-year-old coach if he could remember his first triumph.

"You only remember the ones you lose—but I'll never forget this one."

Neither will the 25,335 fans who crammed into Nippert Stadium to watch hometown product Greg Cook make his debut as a Bengal quarterback.

The former University of Cincinnati star, playing in the stadium where he set several NCAA records, lived up to his billing with two touchdown strikes.

He connected with wide receiver Eric Crabtree on second quarter touchdown passes of 69 and 25 yards that opened up a 21-7 bulge over the Dolphins.

The Bengals scored first when rookie linebacker Bill Bergey picked off an errant Griese toss and rambled 56 yards to the Miami 22.

That snapped a string of 99 straight passes Griese had thrown without an interception. Five plays later, Paul Robinson crashed over from the four but the Bengals' 7-0 lead lasted only 17 seconds.

Mercury Morris, a fleet-footed back from West Texas State, took the ensuing kickoff and sped untouched 105 yards for the equalizer.

Cook, who looked good in his initial start, then fired his touchdown passes, the second set up by Fletcher Smith's 29-yard run with another intercepted pass.

"Cook is a remarkable young man," Brown said. "Wait until you see him in about four or five years."

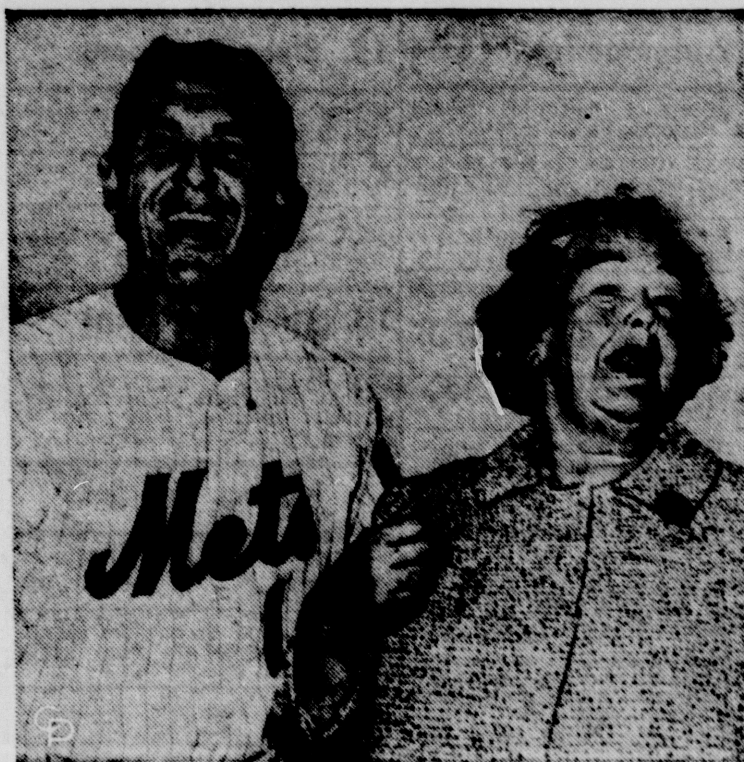

Wilhelm, Braves Edge Past Houston, 3-2

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When, 25 years or so from now, they finally write Hoyt Wilhelm's pitching epilogue, they can call it The Old Man And The Knuckleball.

Wilhelm, who makes a baseball do tricks by digging his carefully-filed nails into its seams, came to Atlanta last week and in three appearances with the pennant-conscious Braves, he has one victory and two saves.

league season, came Sunday when Rico Carty rified a pair of home runs that gave the Braves a 3-2 triumph over Houston.

It was the sixth straight victory for Atlanta and left the Braves 1½ games in front of both Los Angeles and San Francisco in the sizzling National League West race.

The Dodgers and Giants both kept pace with the front-running Braves, who haven't lost since acquiring Wilhelm on waivers from California. Los Angeles knocked off San Diego 3-1 and San Francisco took Cincinnati 5-3.

New York retained its 3½-game lead in the East Division. The Mets lost to Pittsburgh 5-3 but lost no ground to Chicago, which dropped a 2-1 decision to St. Louis in 10 innings. Montreal ripped Philadelphia 7-2 in the other NL game Sunday.

Paul Richards, the Braves' vice president who picked up Wilhelm from the Angels, marveled at the old pitcher.

"Lee MacPhail (general manager of the New York Yankees) said Wilhelm would pitch until he's 50 and it looks like he will," said Richards.

With only four years to go, Wilhelm seems a cinch to make it. He's allowed just two hits in 4 2-3 innings in three appearances for the Braves. He was 5-7 with California.

Carty hit his 13th and 14th homer of the season—the second one a two-run shot with two out in the eighth that erased a 2-1 Houston lead.

It was the fourth straight loss for Houston and dropped the As-

Marjorie Spalding,

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the fiscal officer of the City of Circleville, herein, referred to as the municipality, in the County of Pickaway, Ohio, at her office in the City Hall of the City of Circleville, Ohio, the address of which is 133 South Court Street, until 1:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time in Ohio (Fast Time) on the 30th day of September, 1969, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $350,000, authorized by ordinances passed August 19, 1969. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bids for North Street Sewer Improvement Bonds." Said bonds shall be dated the first day of September, 1969, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bonds No. 1 in the denomination of $500 and three bonds of each maturity which shall be in the denomination of $5,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1970, at the rate of six per centum (6 per cent) per annum. Anyone offering a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 2 per cent, shall state where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent, and a multiple use of said bonds shall be as follows: $17,000 on December 1, 1971; $18,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1972 to 1977, for both inclusive; and $19,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1978 and 1979.

Said bonds, the nature and participation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion and the portion of the cost of constructing the interconnected storm sewers generally referred to as the Circleville North Street Sewer System, to serve territory known as the Circleville North Area. Said bonds are payable at the vision of the legal depositary of the City, presently, The Third National Bank of Circleville, Circleville, Ohio, without deduction for its inclusive, as the municipality's paying agent, and are supported by limited taxes. Said bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than the lowest interest rate. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to be paid on the bonds at the rate of 6 per cent, and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of the highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check or certified check payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one percent of the par amount of said bonds, under the condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it, such security shall be held by the municipality until pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Square, Sanders & Demsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense and will be printed on the bonds at the municipality's expense. A complete transcript of the proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds, the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to federal income tax, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid and interest shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will, on the 30th day of September, 1969, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the purchaser or to a bank designated by the purchaser without charge. If delivered at a place outside the State of Ohio, the purchaser shall pay the expense of delivery at that place. The expense of delivery within the State of Ohio shall not be considered in determining the highest bid.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery, the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase, such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Green Bay Blasts Atlanta Falcons

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Green Bay Packers appeared ready to wipe out the disappointment of last season as they wrapped up their exhibition campaign with a 38-24 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in the Hall of Fame game here.

The Packers, who won their regular National Football League season next Sunday at home against the Chicago Bears, displayed Saturday some of the offensive thrust that led them to world championships in the mid-60s but was missing last year when the team finished with a losing record.

Amaya A Winner

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Antonio Amaya, second-ranking junior lightweight from Panama, scored a 10-round decision over Vicente Garcia, Mexican featherweight champion, Sunday night. Amaya weighed 130½ and Garcia 130½.

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the fiscal officer of the City of Circleville, herein, referred to as the municipality, in the County of Pickaway, Ohio, at her office in the City Hall of the City of Circleville, Ohio, the address of which is 133 South Court Street, until 1:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time in Ohio, on the 30th day of September, 1969, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $1,000,000, authorized by ordinances passed August 10, 1968. Bidding shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for North Storm Sewer Improvement Bonds."

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of September, 1969, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bonds of $500, and three bonds of each maturity which shall be in the denomination of $5,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1970, at the rate of six per centum (6 per cent) per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing the address of rate of interest, but not in excess of 8 per cent provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be eight eighths, one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $170,000 on December 1, 1971; $18,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1972 to 1977, both inclusive; and $19,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1978 and 1979.

Said bonds mature as follows: participation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion and the City's portion of the cost of constructing and interconnecting storm sewers generally referred to as the "Circleville North Storm Sewer System" to the sewerage system known as the Circleville North Area.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the legal depository of the City, presently, the Third National Bank of Circleville, Circleville, Ohio, without deduction for its services as the municipal depository of the bonds, and are supported by limited taxes.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to be paid on the bonds at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of the highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check or certified check payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one percent of the par amount of said bonds, upon the condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bond in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds is required to deposit cash or cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality and used pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squibb, Deters & Decker, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense and shall be printed on the bonds at the municipality's expense. A complete transcript of the proceedings and the successful bidder will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enable delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal income tax prior to the delivery of the bonds, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid security shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at 7:30 o'clock p.m., on the 30th day of September, 1969, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the purchaser or to a bank designated by the purchaser without charge. If delivered at a place outside the State of Ohio, the purchaser shall pay the expense of delivery within the State of Ohio shall not be considered in determining the highest bid.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery, the municipality shall give the bidder notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, not litigation certificate and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, not litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery at the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Green Bay Blasts
Atlanta Falcons

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Green Bay Packers appeared ready to wipe out the disappointment of last season as they wrapped up their exhibition campaign with a 38-24 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in the Hall of Fame game here.

The Packers, who won their regular National Football League season next Sunday at home against the Chicago Bears, displayed Saturday some of the offensive thrust that led them to world championships in the mid-60s but was missing last year when the team finished with a losing record.

Amaya A Winner
MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Antonio Amaya, second-ranking junior lightweight from Panama, scored a 10-round decision over Vicente Garcia, Mexican featherweight champion, Sunday night. Amaya weighed 130 and Garcia 130½.
